Democrats Are Facing Battle On Leadership

Senate Split On Naming Successor To Late Senator Robinson

CONGRESS IS FAR OUT OF CONTROL

Court Battle Has Injected Lasting Bitterness In Ranks Of Party

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The Democratic congress that rode triumphantly into power less than nine months ago on the crest of the Roosevelt landslide was about as far out of control today as congresses ever get.

Discord, dissention and outright rebellion against President Roosevelt seethed beneath the surface and in some instances—as in the court fight—broke through the surface. The 75th congress of today is anything but the "subserient" congress which its critics predicted and complained of.

Leadership Struggle Looms

To the bitterness—and it is real bitterness—of the court fight was added today the prospect of an acrimonious struggle for the Democratic leadership of the senate, left vacant by the dramatic passing of Senator Joe Robinson. The divided Democrats may be even more divided before that is settled.

The three principal candidates are Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, chairman of the powerful finance committee; Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, now assistant leader; and Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, who in the early days of the new deal—but not now—was considered Mr. Roosevelt's senatorial mouthpiece. Byrnes' insurgency on a number of new deal measures, principally relief appropriations and the wages and hours legislation, led to a cooling of relations with the White House.

The real leadership contest lies between Harrison and Barkley. The expectation is that Byrnes will enter his candidacy, and then at the proper time throw his support to Harrison. In that event, Harrison's selection seems assured, although it will not be without a struggle.

Snappy New Uniforms For High School Band

Wait until you see the new uniforms the band of the senior high school will be wearing this fall and winter.

The New Castle School Board approved the selection of the Music Council on Wednesday night at the board meeting and if the band isn't an eyeful this year you can sue me.

The uniforms are a modification of the West Point dress uniform save as to color and its color we want to mention. When the 100 piece band starts to sashay down Taggart Field this fall it will look like a third alarm fire going some place to happen. And this is said in a commendatory spirit for the uniforms simply reach out and sock you on your color consciousness.

Brilliant Red

The jacket is red, but what a brilliant red. Scarlet, vermillion or a tomato with a big blush would describe the color. The buttons are round brass balls, with plenty of black braid on the sleeves and frogs.

Expect To Resume Battle On Court Bill; At President's Order

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 15.—A leaderless senate, sorrowing over the death of Senator Joe T. Robinson and aching to go home, will be forced to resume debate next week on President Roosevelt's supreme court bill, even though the opposition predicts its certain defeat, it was learned today.

This procedure will be followed by administration leaders on direct orders from the White House. They will call up the bill Tuesday.

The opposition senators, believing the measure had died with the unexpected passing of Robinson, prepared to move for recommital of the bill to the senate judiciary committee. They claimed 51 votes for this motion, two more than necessary, and predicted it would be killed in this indirect manner.

Seek To End Session.

A tremendous undercover drive was being staged simultaneously to force adjournment of congress on July 24. This move was being opposed by administration leaders, who realize it would mean the death of many important measures. The outcome depended entirely on the administration's control of the senate, since house leaders privately admitted that any senate vote for adjournment would be adopted by that body.

The administration decision to

Suffers Burns As Gasoline Explodes

D. Gale Smith Seriously Burned About Arms And Face In Garage Blast

D. Gale Smith, aged 32, member of the firm of Armstrong and Smith, who operate a garage at 207 Mills Way, suffered serious burns about the arm and face, shortly after eight o'clock this morning, when gasoline which he was draining from an automobile suddenly ignited. Fire which followed, did around $100 damage, and was extinguished by Park avenue and B Truck companies.

According to A. R. Armstrong, who was working with Mr. Smith at the time, they were draining the gasoline tank, preparatory to making some repairs. Smith was down in the pit underneath, when suddenly the gasoline exploded. Smith rolled out of the pit, as the flames began to spread. He had a narrow escape from being trapped in the hole. He was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he received treatment for his injuries.

Fire Chief A. P. McIlwain received slight burns on the right wrist while fighting the blaze, which was extinguished with fire foam.

Far East Crisis Worries Roosevelt

Will Forsake Yacht Trip This Week-End, Will Stay In Office

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The flare into a real war in the Far East, was regarded apprehensively today by President Roosevelt and state department officials.

The president was said to be so concerned about the situation that he would remain in Washington over the week-end so as to keep closely in touch with the state department.

International affairs apparently occupied his attention to the exclusion of other matters. On his calling list were John V. MacMurray, former minister to China, now stationed in Turkey; Norman H. Davis, the administration's roaming ambassador; and under-secretary of state Sumner Welles.

Airmen Losing Hope For Amelia

Widespread Search Of Pacific Reveals No Trace Of Lost Fliers

NAVY AVIATORS ARE CONTINUING SEARCH

By PAUL BROOK
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD U. S. S. LEXINGTON, July 15.—Even the most optimistic of the 300 navy airmen aboard this big floating airport were losing hope today for Amelia Earhart and Fred J. Noonan, round-the-world fliers who disappeared 13 days ago while making a perilous 2,570-mile flight from Lae, New Guinea, to Howland Island.

Cover 100,000 Square Miles

Several patrol flights by the Lexington's 63 planes have embraced more than 100,000 square miles of the ocean waste surrounding the tiny mid-Pacific isle which the famed aviatrix and her navigator never reached.

Forty-two of the planes which roared fanlike over either side of the international date line near the Equator yesterday, reported back to the mother ship shortly before dusk last night and advised "nothing sighted."

Continue Search

Again today the fliers will take off to search farther west of Howland—probably as far west as the Gilbert Islands, 600 miles west of Howland.

As the hunt moved toward the Gilbert group, Captain J. S. Dowell, commander of the Lexington, said the planes of his ship would continue to search the ocean seven days before the last faint hope is abandoned for the lost fliers.

Reynoldstown Reunion Date

As has been customary in years past, the Reynoldstown School reunion will again take place on the day before Oldtimers' Day, or Tuesday, August 17.

Just as in former years the former Reynoldstown pupils will gather in the old school house on Pearson street for a period with memories and then will have a basket picnic.

TRUCK DRIVERS ARE ON STRIKE IN MICHIGAN

(International News Service)

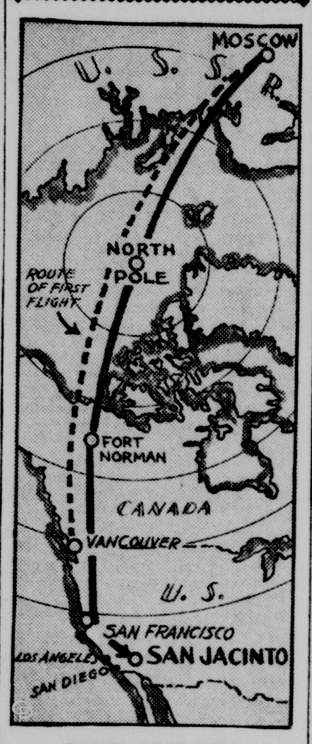
DETROIT, July 15.—A general statewide strike of truck drivers went into effect today, with union leaders claiming 50,000 men quit work to "tie up the trucking industry in Michigan."

The strike, called by the International Brotherhood of Drivers, Teamsters, Chauffeurs and Helpers Union, an A. F. of L. affiliate, after truckers refused to sign union contracts, affected only intra-state shipments since interstate drivers belong to another union.

R. J. Bennett, chairman of the Strikers Negotiating committee, said arrangements had been made to move perishable food and milk.

He estimated that approximately 50,000 drivers quit work, but said it was impossible to estimate the exact number.

New World Record



ROUTE OF FLYERS

Setting a new world long-distance flight record, three Russian flyers piloted their plane from Moscow over the North Pole and down the Pacific coast, landing at San Jacinto, small village in the San Jacinto mountains southeast of Los Angeles. the map above shows the route followed by the flyers and also route followed by three other Soviet flyers on the first polar attempt which ended at Vaucouver, Wash.

Congratulations Showered Upon Russian Fliers

Soviet Airmen Rest Preparatory To Orgie Of Welcome Ceremonies

(International News Service)

RIVERSIDE, Cal., July 15—With two world flying records shattered, three Russian air heroes were showered with congratulations today as they rested for an orgy of welcome ceremonies planned for them.

The intrepid trans-Polar flyers set their red monoplane down in a cow pasture near here 62 hours and 13 minutes out of Moscow—the longest time ever spent in the air on a distance flight.

In that interval they traveled 6,700 miles—more than 1,000 miles farther than the previous non-stop flying record. Air distance from Moscow was set at 6,250 miles, but they flew farther looking for a landing.

Fliers Amused

Stoically, half amused, the three young fliers received the congratulatory messages that poured into the army field here. Messages came from President Roosevelt, from Joseph Stalin of Russia, and from other statesmen and celebrities.

The fliers—Pilot Col. Mikhail, Gromoif, 38, who already holds every Russian military decoration there is; co-pilot major Andrei Yumasheff, 35, and navigator Captain Sergei Danilin, 35—were obviously pleased with their record but at the same time were modest at the praise that was heaped upon them.

The fliers, after a refreshing sleep here, motored to San Diego where they are to inspect airplane factories today. They will drive back to Los Angeles this morning and be guests of honor at a welcoming ceremony.

They stated aerial activity on the Madrid front is increasing and that a terrific air duel between 12 insurgent planes and a "swarm of Republican craft" took place over Madrid during the night.

Fail To Agree On Rail Wages

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The negotiating committees representing railroad management and 14 railroad labor unions today failed again to reach an agreement on the union's demand for an increase of 20 cents an hour in wages.

After a two-hour session the two committees recessed until late this afternoon, but there seemed to be little prospect that the deadlock will be broken. The union representatives are adamant in their demand for the 20-cents an hour increase, while railroad management is equally insistent that their proposal of an increase of two cents an hour is the best offer that can be made.

"Who had the finest pair of legs?" Gerard was asked.

Dr. Townsend Gives Address

Tells Followers That Government Will Be Petitioned To Secure Rights

SPEECH CLIMAXES PICNIC AT PARK

Asserting that the United States was a land of wealth and plenty and that there was enough here for all, but that many were not receiving what they were justly entitled too, Dr. Frances E. Townsend, originator of the Townsend Revolving Plan, stated that the government would have to adopt a new policy of security for the unfortunate. His revolving financial plan, he stated was the solution to this problem, and having been balked in past efforts to put the plan across, new methods would be devised.

Dr. Townsend's address climaxed the picnic held at Cascade Park Wednesday, and closed the evening's program.

The constitution, he stated, gives every citizen of the United States the right of petition. This method, he stated, has been adopted by the Townsend group to put their plan across, and has been started already in Oregon.

To Petition Congress

It is planned to have all organized Townsend clubs secure signatures to petitions, which will be pre-

Hitch-Hiking Trip Ends Fatally For Young Reading Girl

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., July 15.—A hitch-hiking trip for employment ended tragically today when a 21-year-old girl was killed as she attempted to jump from a runaway truck.

The girl was identified as Eleanor Sheidy, of Reading. She was crushed under the wheels of a heavy truck near Blairsville when she failed to clear the vehicle. A companion, Orville Murphy, also of Reading, escaped injury.

The truck driver, John Sparko, of North Braddock, stayed in the van and brought it to a halt on the next hill. He told officers he picked the couple up in Harrisburg when they said they wanted to reach Pittsburgh to find work.

I haven't been invited since the summer days set in, to go to someone's picnic in a park, and I can't get at the reason for this dreadful oversight, the reasons for it still are dank and dark. For I like to eat at picnics when the heat is on the up, and the ants are making hey hey in the cake, and if now and then a spider crawls upon the pickled beets, well everything to me is simply jake. Oh I love these outdoor picnics where the flies are present too, and they ramble up and down in broken lines, for it all goes in as pleasure if you like your pleasure thus, the weather's cooler, still at eighty-nine

SENATE TO PAY TRIBUTE

State Funeral Being Planned

Highest Public Tribute For Late Sen. Robinson On Friday Morning

PRESIDENT WILL ATTEND SERVICE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 15—The senate today prepared to pay its highest public tribute—a state funeral—to majority leader Joseph T. Robinson.

The state services will be held at noon tomorrow. The Rev. Dr. Zebarney T. Phillips, senate chaplain, will officiate. The senators body will lie in state in the senate chamber from 10 a. m. Friday until after the services.

Then accompanied by a large congressional delegation, the body will be taken back to Robinson's home in Little Rock, Ark., for burial Sunday. Services will be held at the grave in the family cemetery after the body lies in state in the state capitol Sunday morning.

Robinson's colleagues, members of his family, and official Washington, headed by President Roosevelt, will attend the state service.

The service will include the reading of the scriptures and the singing of Robinson's favorite hymns by a church choir. A train will carry the body and the congressional delegation to Little Rock. Forty-five senators and a score of representatives will accompany the body.

The state service for Robinson will be the fourteenth in the senate's history The last was held in March 1933, for Senator Thomas J. Walsh (D) of Montana, who had been appointed attorney general.

EXPECT TO RESUME BATTLE ON COURT BILL

force further consideration of the court bill was reached in the face of warnings that it would cause the death of several senators. This warning came from Senator Copeland (D) of New York, a physician, and was repeated by Dr. George W. Calver, official physician to congress.

The two physicians were so concerned over the health of various members, they issued individual warnings. Copeland urged his colleagues to "eat sparingly, drink lots of water and go to bed early." Calver issued a statement urging members to "make the necessary adjustments in living and work" necessary for good health. At present, he is treating a hundred members of congress for various ailments.

Fear More Deaths.

Copeland predicted more senators will die if the court debate is prolonged. He said:

"It is a great pity the administration is keeping congress in session. By doing so, it is signing the death warrants of more of our colleagues, just as over-work and strain killed Joe Robinson. There will be more deaths if this court fight is continued."

Copeland was slated to resume the opposition's attack on the court bill next Tuesday. He yielded the floor yesterday by unanimous consent to announce Robinson's death. At the time, it was generally conceded the bill would never again be debated. This situation changed overnight, when it was learned the president still desired enactment of the measure into law.

Senator Pittman (D) of Nevada, president pro-tem of the senate, said:

"Certainly, we are going ahead with the court bill. I see no reason why the bill shouldn't be enacted into law. We will resume debate on it Tuesday."

To this, Senator Wheeler (D) of Montana, leader of the opposition, replied:

"The bill is dead. The senate will merely stage the obsequies next week."

DR. TOWNSEND GIVES ADDRESS

sented to the governors of the various states and their legislatures, and in turn to the president and congress, urging the adoption of the plan.

Around 400 people were present during the evening and heard Dr. Townsend speak. Many of them came from a considerable distance, points in Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania.

Dr. Townsend was introduced to the audience by Mayor Charles E. McGrath, after he had been presented to the audience by Carl W. Hauffler, chairman of the program.

Prior to Dr. Townsend's address, solo numbers were presented by Miss Esther Powers with Mrs. David M. Owens, [illegible] accompanying on the piano, and by the Plum sisters, who obliged with accordion and cornet duets. The meeting opened with the singing of America, led by [illegible] M. Owens, of Sharon, former local resident, following which Rev. A. P. Shaffer, pronounced the invocation.

Presented With Gavel

At the close of Dr. Townsend's address, he was presented with a gavel, made from white oak by James H. Jones, member of Townsend Club No. 1, of this city. The presentation speech was made by Attorney E. F. G. Harper, also a member of Townsend Club No. 1.

An appeal for funds with which to carry on the Townsend program and pay for the expense of bringing Dr. Townsend here was made at the close of the meeting by Lieut. Raymond J. Jeffreys, of Cleveland, O., who asked those who believed in Dr. Townsend and his work to come to the platform and shake Dr. Townsend's hand. Envelopes were also passed out in which contributions could be sent to headquarters for the cause.

fighting President Roosevelt on the court issue are almost unanimous for the Mississippian, notwithstanding that he has gone along (however reluctantly) with the White House on that issue. Barkley they consider "too new dealish" under present conditions. Too, they consider Barkley to be a candidate for the presidential nomination in 1940, and under those circumstances other ambitious Democrats with the same ideas for themselves are not anxious to put him in so powerful a position as the leadership.

The under-surface struggle for the leadership got under way within a few hours after Senator Robinson's body was found sprawled in death in his apartment in the shadow of the Capitol, and even while the eulogies to the dead leader were being voiced.

It will come to a showdown next Wednesday at a party caucus, which Barkley as acting leader will call upon the return of the Democrats from attending Robinson's funeral at Little Rock.

Effort For Barkley

An effort will be made to continue Barkley as acting leader for the duration of this session, with selection of a permanent leader postponed until the regular session next January. The Harrison people are expected to oppose that move on the ground that a permanent leader should be elected at once so that the party can go forward on a permanently organized basis.

Harrison's leadership aspirations are comparatively recent. Some weeks ago when the senate was pressing President Roosevelt to appoint Robinson to the supreme court, thus vacating the leadership, Harrison told friends he was not interested in it, and didn't want it.

But his friends evidently persuaded him to change his mind.

One of those friends, a quiet but nevertheless influential figure in senate circles, was in Washington today. Bernard M. Baruch, the financier, got off a boat upon which he was to have sailed to Europe and hurried to the capital at news of Senator Robinson's death.

SNAPPY UNIFORMS FOR SCHOOL BAND

In shape it resembles a mess jacket. The cap is the high colonial cap effected by West Pointers with a big chin strap and a brass chain across the front that would hold a bull dog. The trousers are black with a red strip down the side.

Without any question they are the most colorful uniforms the band ever had and with a bright autumn sun glistening on that red and brass the spectators will need smoked glasses. But you'll love the uniforms for they simply exude snap and color and pep.

The contract was let to the D. Klein and Bro. Inc., of Philadelphia at a net price of $2842. The Music Council has about $2400 in sight and the board will advance the difference, this to be paid back later.

But just wait until you see those uniforms.

at which preparations for hostilities were made although government leaders continued to express hopes the dispute will be settled amicably.

Urges Mobilization Check

General Gen Sugiyama, minister of war, addressed the conference at length, urging the governors to make a thorough check of all measures for mobilization of troops in their respective prefects.

He also instructed them to see that all was in readiness for immediate requisition of supplies to facilitate emergency preparation. Measures to combat air raids also were discussed.

The government is planning to promulgate a law enacted in 1917 enforcing strict control of all markets to prevent profiteering.

Open Hostilities Threatened

Peiping, July 15.—Open hostilities to compel "liquidation" of China's administration in Hopei and Chahar provinces were threatened by a Japanese spokesman here today as the war ministry in Tokyo rushed troops to China to back up the ultimatum.

"Unless the Japanese military obtains liquidation of the North China administration in its own way, it is war," a spokesman at the embassy declared.

Japan's stern demand found the Chinese military unyielding. North Chinese newspapers launched a campaign to drum up popular support for war, some of them declaring:

"The time has come to settle accounts with Japan."

Prepare War Machine

A few even suggested total abandonment of peace negotiations with Japanese authorities. They stated the Japanese, through these negotiations, were merely gaining time to prepare their war machine for further hostilities.

A boycott against Japanese goods got under way in the North China area and showed signs of becoming general. At the same time, fearing open warfare might break out at any moment, Japanese nationals living in the interior of China were evacuating their homes and hastening to the safety of treaty ports.

According to reliable advices here, Japanese authorities at Fengtai issued a proclamation stating the purpose of Japan's dispatch of troops to North China was to expel the famed Chinese 29th route army on grounds it was an "opponent of law and order."

president of the Pittsburgh Synod. His address, in which he commented the congregation for what it has done and at the same time gave a reminder that there is much work ahead, followed scripture reading and prayer by the pastor, Rev. Paul J. Tau.

Eugene Reynolds, vice president of the church council, then presented the mortgage to be burned and Mr. Overmoyer applied the match.

A selection by the church choir and a solo by Thomas Ridley, followed.

The crowd then went to the social room downstairs for refreshments and an informal period together.

The success of the series of meetings was due to the work of the Sabbath school and the untiring efforts of Superintendent C. C. Shiffler.

'Tis St. Swithin's Day And It Rained

United States Weather Forecaster Has Doubts About Ancient Legend

Today is St. Swithin's day, and it rained, and if it rains on St. Swithin's Day it is supposed to keep it up for 40 days.

However, the last shower of the morning was followed immediately by clearing skies and soon the sun began to shine.

United States Weather Forecaster W. S. Brotzman, of Pittsburgh, has his doubts about the legend which dates back ten centuries. He said he had never heard of it raining for 40 days except when Noah had his ark.

The chances are, that just to be perverse, it will clear up now and quit raining. That is generally the way of things, and there won't be a soul in New Castle who would be mad if it didn't rain again for a month.

Indict Nine On Mail Interference Charges In Ohio

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, July 15.—With one man already in custody, federal marshalls today continued their search for eight others indicted by the federal grand jury here on charges of obstructing U. S. mails in connection with interference with mail deliveries into strike-affected steel plants.

Leo Cox, picket captain of the C. I. O. at the Massillon plant of Republic steel, was held in Cuyahoga county jail. Among those still sought are Joseph M. Morton and Kenneth Steed, C. I. O. leaders at Massillon.

Morton was named in three indictments on 16 counts. Steed is named on nine counts and Cox on six. Others named in the indictments are Mike Walker, Tony Crisch, Dominic Scarpine and Theodore Pictowski, all of Youngstown; and Sam Caputo and Will Williams, both of Warren.

All nine were charged with interfering with and preventing mail deliveries to Republic and Youngstown Sheet & Tube plants at Youngstown, Warren and Massillon at various times during the steel strike.

They will be arraigned Monday before Judge Samuel H. West of the federal district court here.

Now we see why John L. Lewis contributed $500,000 to the campaign fund. He was buying part of that mandate.

Man seems a wonderful animal till you learn what awful things he can do in the conviction that he is right.

The group of A. B. D. Girls, with their leader Mrs. Martin, is planning entertainment in the form of a display of old photographs of prominent New Castle residents. Refreshments will be served by the hostesses presiding during the evening.

EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY OF MRS. HELEN LOVE

Honoring the eightieth birthday of Mrs. Helen M. Love, of Fulkerson street, about 34 friends and relatives gathered for a dinner, Tuesday, at Cascade Park.

The table was beautifully decorated with a huge bouquet of garden flowers, and a delicious picnic menu was served. The guests present included friends from Pittsburgh, Freedom, Beaver Falls, Greenville and New Wilmington.

Mrs. Love received a number of beautiful gifts in memory of the occasion and the guests departed wishing her many happy returns of the day.

Marsing Club Guests

Mrs. Homer Miles, of Cunningham avenue, was hostess Wednesday evening to members of the Marsing club, who gathered for a social time. The usual card contest filled in the early hours, with Mrs. Theodore Gunnett and Mrs. Ernest Anderson winning the prizes.

Plans were discussed for a picnic outing to be held on July 24, with husbands to share as special guests.

Lunch was served at the small tables afterwards, the hostess being aided by Mrs. Frances Cope. Clusters of sweetpeas were used for decorations.

FIELD CLUB BRIDGE PLANNED FOR TONIGHT

Plans are complete for the evening bridge party to be held this evening in the New Castle Field club for the enjoyment of its membership, play beginning at 8:15 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Strayer will preside in the role of hosts, and at the close of the card contests prizes will be awarded those winning honors. The serving of cooling refreshments will chronicle the close of the entertainment.

LOVELY SHOWER FOR MISS ECKELBERGER

Winding up a series of lovely parties and showers, Miss Helen Eckelberger, bride-elect, was again honored Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Bradley McGonigle, North Beaver street, when she entertained jointly with her sister, Miss Mary Ann Hogue. The occasion was a bridge-shower, and took the honoree by complete surprise.

Five tables of players competed for honors in cards, the smart favors being captured by Mrs. Emmett Dagnon, Miss Jean Fallen and Miss Caroline Hannon. Lunch was later served, the hostesses re-arranging the individual tables with dainty bouquets of summer flowers.

Festivities were climaxed when the guest of honor was presented with an array of beautiful and servicable gifts, to use in her new home.

Miss Eckelberger will be married on Monday of the coming week to Paul Soupart, in St. Mary's church.

Immer Treu Club

Charlene Bates, Beckford street, proved a charming hostess to Immer Treu club members, recently. Games and chat were the pastimes of the evening, prizes going to Helen Hogue and Vivian Thomas. At an appointed time, the hostess served an appetizing luncheon. Vivian Thomas, Beckford street, will entertain the club soon.

RAINBOW GIRLS END SEASON WITH PICNIC

In bringing to a close a most successful season of meetings and social functions, members of the Rainbow Order for Girls, New Castle Assembly, No. 1, held a picnic outing Tuesday evening in the grove of Cascade Park. They had as special guests their boy friends, and members of the Advisory board, who acted as chaperones.

Approximately a hundred enjoyed the festivities, and in spite of the downpour of rain, it didn't hinder with the program of entertainment arranged by the committee.

After the serving of the sumptuous menu, the group took in all the park concessions, and later, they went to Rainbow Terrace where the balance of the evening was spent. Dancing, and a series of contests featured.

This marked the concluding event for Rainbow Girls, a distinguished organization of young women, until September when regular sessions will again be resumed in the Cathedral. Miss Charlene Bates is worthy advisor.

DAVIS-WATSON WEDDING TOLD

A pretty wedding that was most impressive took place Wednesday in the parsonage of White Oaks Springs U. P. church at Pertersville, Pa., when Miss Alberta Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallie Davis of John street, this city, became the bride of Lawrence Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Watson of Connoquenessing.

The Rev. Calvin Rose, a personal friend of the young couple, officiated, using the single ring service, in the presence of their families.

The bride was attired in a poudre blue lace creation, over poudre blue satin, made redingote style. Her accessories were in white, and a shoulder bouquet of Talisman roses completed her attire. Serving her sister as maid of honor, Miss Martha Davis was gowned in shell pink lace, over matching satin, and patterned identically like the bride's, and she, too, wore a shoulder corsage of Talisman roses.

Donald Watson served his brother as best man.

A wedding reception supplemented the ceremony, and a dainty lunch was served. The bridal table was artistically decorated with the traditional tiered cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, guarded on either side by tall waxen candles in crystal holders. The all white theme predominated, and covers were laid for ten.

Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Watson departed on an extended trip to Washington, D. C., Cumberland, Md., and other points of interest. For traveling, she chose a Navy crepe ensemble, with white accompaniments, and shoulder bouquet to harmonize.

The bride, a graduate of the January class of '34 of the local high school, has been associated with the Neisner company of this city. He graduated from Butler high in '29 and is affiliated with the Treesdale Nursery establishment at Mars, Pa., where the couple will take up residence in their newly furnished home after July 25.

They have received a collection of handsome gifts, testifying to the esteem in which they are held. She had been feted at a number of lovely showers and parties since the news of their engagement was made known, receiving additional gifts for use in their future home.

Rev. McGill And Bride To Make Home In Cairo, Egypt

Rev. and Mrs. Willis A. McGill of Mt. Lebanon, Pa., nee Anne Sterrett McAuley, bride and groom of recent date, will sail on September 14 for Cairo, Egypt, as representatives of the local Highland United Presbyterian church, to do missionary work.

Sailing on the Exeter for Alexandria, their first port, will round out a most eventful summer for the bride. She has just graduated from Westminster college, has married a minister who will enter the mission field in Egypt, and their headquarters will be the American mission in Cairo, across from the internationally famous scenes in the heart of the world's most ancient civilization. The bride and the bridegroom have a family missionary background of much prestige. Both are graduates of Westminster college.

The father of the bridegroom, the late Rev. Ralph McGill, was a missionary in India who sacrificed his life during his service. His mother, Mrs. Flora McGill, shared his life as a missionary and lives in New Wilmington, her health impaired by her service.

Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Adams, uncle and aunt of the bride, are in Cairo, where the former heads the United Presbyterian Theological Seminary.

Rev. Robert M. Karr, D. D., professor of the Pittsburgh-Xenia Seminary of Pittsburgh, from which the bridegroom has graduated, and the Rev. Wilbur C. Christy, Crafton Heights, Pittsburgh, assisted Rev. McAuley in officiating at the marriage of the couple which took place recently in Brownlee Woods United Presbyterian church of which Rev. McAuley is pastor.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Auley A. McAuley. Miss Doris Button was maid of honor and Rev. T. Matthew Gilliland of New Bedford, Pa., was best man. Mrs. Donald W. Kirchbaum and Miss Martha Ihsen of Fairview, Pa., were the bride's other attendants. Rev. H. Paul Henderson of Wilkinsburg, Pa., was chief usher, and Harry C. McAuley, another brother of the bride, David R. Knoff of Mt. Lebanon, and Goeffry G. Sowash of New Wilmington, Pa., were the other ushers.

Miss Lois McGill of New Wilmington, the groom's sister, presided at the piano and contributed a program of wedding music. Miss Margaret Park of Sharon was vocal soloist, and Miss Laverne Swindler of New Wilmington played violin solos.

A reception was held in the church parlors after the ceremony, with out of town guests attending from Pittsburgh, Cleveland, O., New Wilmington, New Castle, Erie, Altoona, McKeesport, Pa., New York City, Florida and California.

The bride and groom have taken up residence in Mt. Lebanon, where Rev. McGill is assistant pastor of the Mt. Lebanon U. P. church, following a short postnuptial trip through the south.

Both the bride and groom are widely known in the local district, as well as surrounding cities. Their host of friends will read with interest, of their missionary work in Cairo, which they will undertake in behalf of the Highland U. P. church of this city.

Last minute changes were made necessary Wednesday afternoon in the plans of the East Side Garden club, due to "Old Man Weather" favoring us with a downpour of rain. Instead of gathering at Cascade Park as originally planned, the group went to the home of Miss Elma Badger on Adams street, where they enjoyed a 1 o'clock tureen luncheon.

Flowers adorned the table where the menu was served, and afterwards, the usual routine was in order. Roll call was answered with the names of "Trees That Grow in Cascade Park." A discussion on "Unknown Flowers" ensued.

Details were discussed for their annual flower show to take place the last week of August, definite announcement to be made. The committee in charge composes Mrs. Paul Allen, chairman, Mrs. J. Albert Wilson and Mrs. Kathryn McIntyre. The same group, with the latter as chairman, will be in charge of the entries at this exhibition. SENATOR JOSEPH T. ROBINSON

THE untimely death of United States Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Democratic leader of the senate will be mourned not alone by the people of the United States but by governmental leaders of the entire world.

For the past 33 years he had given his life to the service of his country. Member of congress, governor of the state of Arkansas and United States Senator since 1913 he was an able statesman, loyal to the party in which he was enrolled, tireless in the performance of duties which at times may not have squared with his own ideas, but performed because of an unswerving devotion to his party.

His death came at a dramatic moment. For weeks he has been directing the fight to enlarge the personnel of the United States Supreme Court, and in this he acted for the leader of his party, President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

There are many who did not hold with his political philosophy, and many of his own party who disagreed with his legislative policies but there are few who did not respect him as a man and as a statesman. Personal esteem is not limited by party lines and he called many men his friends who opposed him politically.

The United States Senate has lost a colorful and forceful character. The state of Arkansas has lost one of her most distinguished sons. The people of the United States have lost one of their outstanding citizens.

Like a soldier he died in the midst of battle. It is to be regretted that the battle is one which many leaders think was ill advised.

THIS NATION'S PEACE COMES FIRST

Secretary Hull's expression of hope to the diplomatic representatives of China and Japan that a way will be found to avert actual war between those countries, which would be a blow to the cause of world peace and progress, is certainly as far as a spokesman for our government should go at this juncture. Indeed it is difficult to imagine circumstances, not directly affecting our own nation, which would necessitate or render proper a stronger statement, since we are resolved to remain neutral in any future war.

Replying to a question at his press conference, Mr. Hull said no consideration had been given as yet to the question whether developments in North China called for a declaration by the president of the existence of a state of war. Such declaration would automatically apply to our new neutrality law, with its embargo on shipments of arms and ammunitions to the belligerents.

This law grants the president a broad measure of discretion. It is a defensive device that should be invoked only after thorough consideration. The great purpose of this neutrality law is to keep the nation out of war. Its precipitate or unwise application might conceivably endanger America's peace.

FATAL ACCIDENT COSTS

Again is impressed upon us the enormity of our national accident problem. Death for 111,000 and permanent disability for 400,000 in a total of 10,730,000 cases—last year's grim record as announced by the National Safety Council—conjures a picture of suffering, sorrow and loss beyond the power of adequate description.

As in other years the greatest number of accident cases occurred not on the highway or in the shop, but in the home. In 1936 also the home became the scene of the greatest number of fatalities, relegating the automobile to second place for the first time in years. It is hardly conceivable that 38,500 lives were lost last year by falls downstairs, slipping in the bath tub, electric shocks, poisoning, burns, cuts and like mishaps sustained in the home. The total is about 4,000 more than the year before.

From this it might appear that in our campaigns against reckless driving we were not putting the emphasis where it was most needed. Digging into the statistics, however, reveals the surprising fact that, barring automobiles, accident fatalities were 5,033 more in 1913 than they were in 1936, the respective totals having been 78,233 and 73,000. Measured against the increased population and the more intensive living, that is a truly notable result.

The most interesting and enlightening information on accidental deaths may be had from comparisons based on rates per 100,000 population. The highest accident death rate on record was in 1907. It was then 93.7 as against last year's 86.4, but unhappily the latter is higher than for any other year in more than two decades. From 1913 to 1921 there was a drop from 85.5 to 68.4. Then there was a gradual rise to until 1929, when the figure was 80.9. It dropped still further the next three years and then started upward again.

Contrary to general belief, children between 5 and 18 show the lowest death rate from accidents of all age groups. Last year it was only 34.6, representing 8,400 fatalities, which is the same number practically as in 1934. The 1936 total in actual number is 1,333 less than 10 years ago. There is real progress.

Evaluation of this loss of human life in dollars and cents produces the huge total of $3,700,000,000. It includes loss of wages, hospitalization and medication, insurance costs, property damage in motor accidents and fire losses. The total is more than twice the amount spent by the government in work relief in the fiscal year just closed.

In Russia an $800,000,000 defense fund was raised over night, as many Russians do not yearn for the firing squad.

Ethics, American style: Make righteous rules to show your heart is pure; then do the dirty work where it can't be seen.

Senator Wagner has decided not to run for mayor of New York, as he is dividing his whole efforts to an attempt to ascertain what the act means.

The governor who says, "Every governor is torn between party love and public duty," could point to Murphy and Earle as two in whose cases the struggle ended similarly.

A strong case could be made for the appointment of six additional presidents to safeguard the popular will. In its entire history the supreme court has invalidated 77 acts of congress, while President Roosevelt has vetoed 221 in four years

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TRAIN ADOLESCENT IN CRADLE

The more I study the problems of adolescence the more I am convinced that these problems had their beginning in the earlier years. Ever so many parents are worried because their teen-age child has no regard for them or for their wishes or commands. It's late to cultivate obedience and respect of parents in the adolescent child, and without obedience, there can hardly be respect.

The foundations for effective control are best established before the child is two or three. When this early control is cultivated wisely and intelligently, the child continues to respect his parents as he grows older. But "wisely and intelligently" presuppose that the parents have planned and worked together for the child's best upbringing, that they have cultivated self-control and exercised a very profound consideration for each other and for each as a sacred personality. And they have not made too many sacrifices for the child, have not satisfied too many of his wishes, have not made themselves his slaves. They have let him share the burdens and responsibility of the family as soon as he grew old enough to do so.

Every now and then some father or mother drops in from another city to talk with me about a child. On each of two succeeding days recently two fathers, business men, came, each to talk about an adolescent boy. One child was reported as dull at school, the other as very bright.

Lacks Skill With Tools

Attempting to find some assets in each boy for the parents to build on, I asked if he had skill with tools and on the playground. Neither had ever acquired such skills, neither attracted friends his age nor enjoyed them. How hard it is to socialize a non-social adolescent child. How hard to interst him then for the first time in creative amusement. How very keen the suffering of the adolescent who lacks ability to win and enjoy friends.

Let me entreat parents of young children to encourage them in self-amusement, early, with toys and tools, and encourage free play with many other children of their age in the neighborhood in preparation for happy adolescence. Rejoice that the modern primary school is doing so much for social and constructive work and play. Let us begin with the baby in the crib to guide him well in adolescence, not forgetting to cultivate independence and self-reliance in the child with the hope that he will be able in the early teens to manage himself almost entirely.

"I'm surprised," said the friend, "that you should allow yourself to become shabby."

"But I'm not shabby," protested the miser.

"Why," shouted the other, triumphantly, "these clothes I'm wearing were father's!"

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR MISS MARKEL — Very soon, I shall marry and furnish my own home. I am very fond of antique furniture but cannot afford the "real thing." Do you think reproductions would be in good taste? —Bride-to-Be.

Answer—They are in the best of taste! None but the wealthy can buy genuine antique masterpieces and none but the very fortunate inherits them from remote ancestors. So antique-lovers of moderate circumstances must resort to reproductions which, if done by skilled workmen who understand the proportions and lines of antique furniture, will give your home some of that rare charm obtained from "the real thing."

Eighteenth Century styles are the best for most moderate homes and apartments.

Dear Miss Markel—What is the best floor-covering for a kitchen?—T.E.

Answer—You will find nothing else quite so serviceable and attractive as linoleum. The thicker it is the longer it will last. Oilcloth is less expensive and also attractive but its wearing quality is vastly inferior to linoleum which is well worth its price.

Today's Yesterdays, July 15, 1606 — Rembrandt Hermanzoon van Rijn was born at Leyden, Holland. Contemporaries knew he was the greatest painter of their time, due to the originality of his mind, the power of his imagination, the boldness of his system of light and shade, the thoroughness of his modeling, his sublte color, and his intense humanity; yet so careless of his reputation were they that it is only within the last 50 years that the modern world has come to know anything of his real history.

A biography written by a jealous contemporary, which depicted Rembrandt as ignorant, boorish and avaricious, and was as full of falsehoods as Parson Weem's biography of Washington, was accepted as a standard authority by the world for centuries. A man is what his biographers make him.

To those with an eye for human character, Rembrandt was his own best biographer: He painted 60 portraits of himself:

Rembrandt's most famous painting is called "Night Watch." But it's a painting of a day watch.

French historians claim D'Abbans invented the steamboat, apparently unaware that another Frenchman, Denis Papin, built a steamboat nearly 100 years before D'Abbans. It was destroyed by a mob of oarsmen from Weser river boats who thought it would take their livelihood away.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

MORE POWER—MORE BUREAUCRATS

Now pending in Congress are a number of bills with a similar objective. That objective is the promotion of publicly owned electric systems—which is a polite way of saying socialization of the electric industry. If the objective is reached, an industry with an investment of some $12,000,000,000, representing savings of millions of citizens, will be impaired or destroyed. Taxes running into the hundreds of millions annually will be lost to the Federal, State and local governments. And the taxpayers of the nation, in addition to making up this serious loss, will be directly responsible for any and all deficits that public plants may create.

Two of the pending bills are indicative of the trend. One would establish half a dozen or so power districts in strategic parts of the country, modeled after the TVA. The fact tha all of these sections at present served with electricity at low cost, and that in most of them there is considerable excess of supply over demand, is not considered.

Another of the bills recently introduced in the House says: "The purpose of this act is to provide for the public operation of the coal, electrical energy, oil and natural gas industries in the Continental United States, and of their products. It is declared to be in the public interest that these industries be operated as a national unified system." The act then provides that a corporation be formed to secure these ends either by negotiation or by exercising the right of eminent domain. What it would cost to do all this is staggering—it would run into the scores of billions, and would establish socialism in America on a major scale. But cost to the taxpayers doesn't seem to matter to those who vision the tremendous possibilities for political power and patronage in government seizure of our basic industries.

THOSE BRAVE PIONEER MOTORISTS

He asked me yesterday about the early automobile days
When first the horseless carriage came and people called it "just a craze."
"Oho!" said I, "you won't believe the stories of those by-gone years
And all the griefs we had to bear when we were motor pioneers.

"He had to be a sturdy soul to dare
a trip of forty miles;
To brave the risk of country roads and all the farmer's scornful smiles;
He had to know his kit of tools and how to take the car apart,
He had to know a dozen tricks those old four cylinders to start.

"On hills; in ruts the motor stalled;
it stopped whenever there was rain,
And in the mud knee deep we'd stand to crank and crank and crank in vain;
The twenty-minute trip you make today whenever you desire
Meant hours of agony to us. Son, have you ever pumped a tire?

"You've never crawled beneath the car and had your knuckles skinned and scratched.
You've never cleaned magneto points; an inner tube you've never patched;
You've never with your final match in rain and wind and garments damp
And fifteen miles from home got out to try to light a carbide lamp.

"You step into your motor car for towns three hundred miles away
And know that if with care you drive you will arrive wtihout delay,
But that is just because our age, despite the troubles that we knew,
With blistered hands and aching back went out to pioneer for you."

Accept Challenge Of Public Affairs, Kiwanis Governor Urges In Address Wednesday

Declaring that while Kiwanis International must continue to carry on its important underprivileged children's work and to give support to its many other noble undertakings, District Governor Clarence Conners of the Pennsylvania Kiwanis district, asserted before New Castle Kiwanians yesterday that "Kiwanis must engage itself more in public affairs through the militant citizenship of its members."

The district chief, whose home is in Chester, Pa., spoke at the club's weekly meeting in The Castleton. It was his first official visit here.

Day For Action Here

"I believe the day is at hand," Governor Conners told the members, "for Kiwanis to accept the challenge of public affairs and to do its part in civic, economic and governmental affairs."

He said Kiwanis doesn't need "share-the-wealth" men but men who will "share the brains, share kindliness, share sacrifices and share service."

For his topic he chose seven words, "I Hope You Live All Your Life," words penned as the postscript of a letter a seven-year-old girl wrote to her brother in the trenches of France when the World was was at its height.

Are We Living Lives?

"Are we living all our lives?" the speaker asked. "We're not," he responded, "unless we're interested in the affairs of our own community —not political affairs, but those affairs that concern the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, underprivileged boys' work and other things like that.'

The district governor called attention to Kiwanis' newest work, that of furnishing support to the churches in their spiritual aims and objectives.

"Our ministers need our help, and certainly our Kiwanis help would be appreciated," he said.

Division Leaders Present

Governor Conners was introduced by Lieut. Governor Fred C. Poulson, of Coraopolis, head of the clubs of Division 4, embracing New Castle. Seated with the two were President Thomas L. Paden, who welcomed the leaders, and Montgomery "Monty" McClure, lieutenant governor of Division 1 and a resident of Warren, O., and Donald Eaton, Wilkinsburg, former secretary of the Pennsylvania Kiwanis district.

Governor Conners, affiliated with the Pennsylvania Military Academy at Chester, left after the meeting to attend the annual Pennsylvania-Ohio Kiwanis district meet at the Trumbull Country club, near Warren, O. The New Castle club was represented.

Vocal numbers by a quartet composed of Norman E. Clark, Lee Allen, C. J. Callahan and S. B. Cleal, and led by Chester P. Reynolds, featured Wednesday's program.

Handicraft Exhibits Attract Large Crowds

The playgrounds of the city were meccas for parents and friends Wednesday afternoon when an exhibit of handicraft featured the hours from 2 to 4. Frank Leonard, Lawrence county supervisor of recreation, Mrs. Vallera C. James, assistant county supervisor, and Miss Janice Wrathall, instructor of handicraft, were in charge of arrangements for the day. These playgrounds are under the supervision of the Recreation Division of Works Progress Administration.

At Rose Bowl, in the Park Avenue ravine, the handicraft was arranged on the work tables and there were some clever articles on display, including soap carvings, painted bottles used for flower containers, woven purses, bracelets made from hammered aluminum, models in clay, with very realistic carvings of faces, paintings and colored pictures. Dorothy Woods and Maxine Critchlow are the N. Y. A. girls in charge of handicraft at this playground.

At the Arthur McGill playground, the display was arranged in the school building as the temperament of the weather man has been so unstable for the past week. There was a splendid array of articles in the exhibit. A picture gallery was arranged of clever pictures drawn and painted by a group of children under 8 years of age. The doll furniture made from match boxes drew a lot of attention as it was cleverly covered in odd bits of silk and tapestry; the bead work here also called for some attention, along with the fibre-roving sandals and mats; there were some beautiful vases made from painted bottles and jars. Several children who were in the room at the time of the display were at work on a bead weaving and a rug weaving loom. James Sotus, Beulah Ruthrauff and Esther Sibberson are in charge of the handicraft work at this center.

Rose Ambrose and Antonette Damiana, N. Y. A. girls, arranged a pretty display at the West Side playground and in addition to having articles similar to those at the other playgrounds they also had some monk's cloth dresser sets, some dolls made from clothes pins, pillows made from scrads of cotton prints, clever hand painted tea tiles, mosaic boxes made from cigar boxes and embroidery work.

At the Crawford-Oakridge playground Mary Tabisz and Eugene Moffatt had an unusual display in the form of a farm made in miniature in the sand box. Their gardens of vegetables and flowers called forth favorable comment as the children had planted and taken care of these and they show remarkable care and progress. The fish pond with its gold fish, tadpoles, and pond lilies also attracted attention as well as the display of handicraft, which included some woodwork in the form of an unusual top and an aeroplane.

At Jones Park, on Moravia street, Miss Mary Shannon and her N. Y. A. girls, Irma Moore and Narcissus Sneed, under the greatest difficulty, as the playground itself was under water had a lovely display of pictures, wooden animals, and painted bottles.

At Gaston Park, Laura Carson and Tom Crenney, with the aid of their N. Y. A. assistant, Anna Sams and Louise Tuscano, had a nice array of articles arranged in one of the shelter houses. Some exquisite handwork in the form of knitted wear was on display, the sweaters being made by girls 8, 10 and 11 years of age.

At the Margaret Henry Home one of the living rooms was utilized as a display room and here were some unusual articles in the form of soap carving and knitted scarfs, which were made on looms on the order of spool knitting. A necklace of cantalope seeds was clever and the spatter pictures showed great originality among the children. Colored flowers, which had been dyed, adorned the center of the table in vases made from pickle jars and jelly glasses. Mrs. Cleo Ann Tinstman and Delores Flynn are in charge of the handicraft work at this center.

Miss Dorothy Pander and her N. Y. A. assistant, Flora Robinson, arranged a pretty display at Castlewood playground, with some beautiful hand painted articles as the chief attraction there.

At Dean Park the display was arranged indoors with Mary Million, N. Y. A. instructor in charge. Various articles similar to those at the other centers, were on display here.

Miss Ruth Stewart, N. Y. A. girl, was in charge of the display at St. Phillip & James playground, which included handicraft articles that showed ingenuity and originality on the part of the children.

The children on the playgrounds are taught to make use of materials that are usually thrown in the waste basket at home, and with their hands busy, and their minds occupied with this kind of work, the children are kept off the streets, and under pleasant conditions and in pleasing environments, they are kept happy during the daytime hours. On the various W. P. A. playgrounds of the city between eight and nine thousand children are entertained each week.

Girl Scouts At Cascade Park For Annual Day Camp

Girl Scout day camp at Cascade Park weathered the Tuesday storm and although the attendance has lessened the activities are continuing as per schedule.

With Miss Eleanor LeFerve, Girl Scout Director, in charge, assisted by an excellent staff of workers, the annual day camp was opened Monday, for a two-week period as a fore-runner to encampment at Kennedy's Mills in early August.

The girls go to the park in the morning at 9 o'clock and stay until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. They bring their own lunches and are provided with milk to drink and swimming pool tickets for the nominal sum of ten cents a day. The program they follow is very similar to that followed in "permanent" camp.

The archery bug has got most of the scouts and their greatest pleasure is to point their arrows at the circular targets, hit or miss.

BETHEL

Mr. and Mrs. James Gardner and family spent Monday at Lisbon, O.

Miss Emma Mae Leslie spent the past week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Leslie of New Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dice and family and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henderson spent Monday at Craigs beach near Milton Dam.

There will be no church nor Sabbath school services at Bethel U. P. church on the coming Sabbath. However, the young people's meeting will be held as usual at 8 o'clock Sunday evening.

The young people of the Moravia and Westfield Presbyterian and the Bethel and Mount Jackson U. P. churches will hold their summer party at the Westfield church on Friday evening.

Misses Helen and Sara Stenson of East McKeesport have concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McConnell. The same home was the scene of a family party on Saturday evening when about 40 members of Mrs. McConnell's family gathered there for a wiener roast.

Aquatic Print Suit

The printed dressmaker bathing suit is the pet of the current beach season. Miss Jacqueline Gladney was caught by the photographer at Seaside Park, N. J., wearing a white silk suit printed with fishes, mermaids and other aquatic things which are accented by a pair of brilliant red angel fish clips carved of red catalin beach dice, which latter are used for beach bowling and other games.

Campers' Spirits Are Not Dampened

East Brookers Are Having Great Time In Spite Of Jupiter Pluvius

When in Rome burn Roman candles—and when in camp and it is raining, wear your bathing suit.

That is Camp East Brook philosophy and it is alright both in theory and practice. Tuesday night the girls, 59 of them, had a hare and hound chase that was fast and exciting. The countryside was plenty wet so they wore their swim suits. Both hares and hounds had rip snorting time and the chase ended another perfect day at the Y. W. C. A. camp. The marshmallow roast should be mentioned, too.

The girls at the camp this week are from 9 to 15 years of age, a little older than those who were there during the first period. The classes, including dramatics, handicraft nature study, first aid and swimming, were started on Tuesday.

Two of the groups, nature study and handicraft, have volunteered, as one of their projects, to build a series of steps leading down the campus hill to the cement swimming pool.

All the girls are well and in good spirits, it was said by Miss Marguerite White this morning. Many interesting activities are planned for the evenings of this week.

Sewer Plight Worries Solons

Councilmen To Discuss Sewer Situation Here This Afternoon

MAY ATTEMPT TO RAISE MONEY

Pending a discussion this afternoon in city hall relative to what the city can do to alleviate sewer water conditions here, a measure submitted by Councilman B. F. Butler, which provides for the construction of a storm sewer in Albert street, between Fairmont avenue and Clenmore avenue and thence west in Clenmore avenue to a natural water course, was delayed in passage.

When the ordinance was called up Mayor Charles E. McGrath stated that the question now confronting council is whether or not the city should run the sewer in such a way that water from north would run into the water course which is on private property.

After considerable discussion it was decided that the councilmen should gather around a table later and ascertain what they can do, to not only relieve the water situation in that particular district but others also.

The mayor said the experience of several nights ago showed that to run water onto private property is not good government. Councilman Alexander said that the city must make a start somewhere to drain streets and the sewer system must be corrected.

The mayor adhered to the position that to drain water onto privately-owned land, even though it is a natural water course, is wrong, because when persons bought such land they did not know that the city intended to drain water into such courses

Councilman Rice said he did not feel inclined to vote for the Albert-Clenmore street sewer if this would be the case, after which the mayor said the city might build a larger sewer in Albert street to connect farther south. City Engineer Throop said this would necessitate tearing up the street.

Throop said that putting through the Fuller & McClintock plan, made in 1927, the situation in that section could be eliminated. These plans call for storm sewers as follows: Albert street between Fairfield avenue and Clenmore boulevard thence west to North Mercer street and in North Mercer street from Englewood avenue to Euclid avenue, thence west to the Shenango river.

Councilman Alexander argued that to relieve the situation a start must be made. The mayor said that in his opinion that it would be better for the city to spend some money to correct the situation than to drain water upon people's porperty and ruin them.

After council recessed there was mention of a probable bond issue to take care of the situation and also a statement by Public Safety Director J. Myron Rice that it might not be a bad idea for council to go to Washington and request the PWA to put through a project for sewers here. Rice said this has been done elsewhere.

It was only several days ago that Throop submitted a proposal that the WPA be asked to approve projects for the sewers in the North Hill district to the Shenango river. He said the city's share, actually would be about $40,000. Council said that if the B paving program had to be abandoned they would oppose the project now. However, this morning, it appeared as though an effort to secure the necessary money would be made if they decide to do the work.

District Attorney Prevents Suicide

Prompt action by District Attorney Mont L. Aily probably saved a woman's life on Tuesday afternoon. Apparently despondent, she had gone to his office and threatened to take her life. This threat she had made before.

Securing a glass of water, she placed some tablets in the glass and had started to drink the solution when Mr. Ailey rushed over and knocked the glass from her hand. He then called a physician and had the woman taken to the hospital, where a stomach pump was used. The prompt action enabled the physicians to give her treatment necessary and today she is reported as being in good shape in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Picket Lines Are Eliminated At Canton, Ohio

(International News Service)

CANTON, O., July 15.—Workers entered Republic Steel plants here today for the first time without having to pass picket lines.

Police and deputies, acting on the orders of Sheriff Joseph T. Nist, last night routed the pickets around the plants and wrecked and burned their shanties. The pickets offered no resistance.

The order was believed to have been prompted by the throwing of nails on the streets around the plants, causing damage to the tires of police cruisers and private automobiles. The sheriff claimed that pickets violated his proclamation limiting picketing.

Take Pair Into Custody Here In Sharon Case

Allege Shop In Sharon Is Robbed By Pair Before Coming Here

Ed Chisen and John Treser, said to be wanted by Sharon police on suspicion of robbing the Dan Kaledin sandwich shop at Sharon, several days ago, were arrested at 3:15 a. m. today by Lieutenant Suber and Patrolmen Reese, Golis and Thomas at the B. & O. railroad passenger station. They were immediately returned by Captain Stewart of the Sharon department to that city.

According to reports, the men several days ago entered the Sharon sandwich shop, said they were expert sandwich makers and given work. When a son of the proprietor left the shop yesterday they were said to have robbed the place and to have taken a taxicab for this city. When they got here they took a taxicab to the seventh ward.

Local police were asked to be on the lookout for the men and Lieutenant Suber and other officers checked on the men, traced them to the station where they were arrested.

This is the second capture in the seventh ward within less than two days, Alexander Daku having been caught in the Mahoning Supply company building at 1:50 a. m. yesterday by Officers Reese, Golis and Thomas.

FAVORS 5 DAILY MEALS

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 15—Dr. Howard W. Haggard, associate professor of physiology in Sheffield Scientific School of Yale University thinks five meals a day are better for a person than the customary three. Speaking here recently Dr. Haggard told of trying out the five meal plan on workmen in a shoe factory. He asserted the efficiency of the workmen, their daily output and their general contentment were increased. The professor said his idea is to spread out the amount of food consumed in three meals over five feeding periods.

First Degree Is Charge Against Former Minister

Rev. Mr. C. E. Newton, Of Illinois, Held For Murdering Of Woman

(International News Service)

PITTSFIELD, Ill., July 15.—The Rev. C. E. Newton, a Baptist minister for 30 years, was held today on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying of Mrs. Dennis Kelly, 45, a mother of two children.

The pleasant mannered minister, who resigned his pastorate at Paris, Mo., a year ago, is charged with beating to death Mrs. Kelly after she had cashed a check for $1,950 and had written her husband she was going "where you never will find me".

Maintaining a stoic silence except to admit that he knew Mrs. Kelly had cashed the $1,950 check and to deny that he murdered her, the Rev. Mr. Newton puzzled authorities today. The beaten body of Mrs. Kelly was found in the Mississippi river near Louisiana, Mo.

Mrs. Kelly was a confidant of the Rev. Mr. Newton when he resigned the pastorate he had held for 12 years at Paris. Previously, he was mayor for four years and pastor for eight years at Kahoka, Mo.

Minor Business At School Board

Routine Matters Are Acted Upon At Session On Wednesday Night

Routine business was transacted Wednesday night when the New Castle school board met in session in the administration building.

The business manager was authorized to purchase 250 gallons of floor wax at $1.04 per gallon.

Arrangements were made to advertise the contract for the school printing. The board feels that this bid should be divided between a number of printers instead of turning it all over to one firm. This will probably be done.

School Treasurer C. C. McKibben reported that he had filed with the county commissioners $7134.73 worth of uncollected taxes on unseated land and $126,177.66 on seated land for the year of 1936. He was exonerated in these amounts.

The committee on text books and supplies was authorized to award a contract for physical education equipment for next year.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent, informed the board that he had made arrangements for a vocational education survey to be conducted in New Castle under the terms of Act 315 passed by the last session of the General Assembly and also that he was starting a class for household occupational training. The cost of both projects will be paid by the state.

Sixty copies of "Principles of Salesmanship" were authorized for use in the business course of the senior high school.

Repairs to the Rose avenue school, recently struck by lightning, were authorized. S. G. Ligo, superintendent of buildings and grounds, said that he had estimated the damage to the insurance company at $2000. About 30 feet of the stack will have to be rebuilt. A contract will be let and lightning rods added to prevent further damage by lightning.

Bills for supplies in the amount of $7,682.73 were approved for payment.

Man Is Facing Murder Charge At Greensburg

Would-Be-Suicide Is Recovering In Hospital At Greensburg, Killed Woman

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., July 15.—Emmett Cline, 34, alleged confessor, authorities said, to the woods slaying of Mildred Patterson, 23, in an unsuccessful suicide pact near West Newton today faced trial for murder.

Coroner H. A. McMurray of Westmoreland county said Cline confessed he shot his companion in a shack in the woods where the young woman's body was found.

Following his alleged confession charges of murder were filed against him.

The two were found Tuesday afternoon, the woman dead, a shotgun beside Cline, police said. Cline at first was said to have told police the woman was slain by an intruder and he himself was beaten attempting to fight him off. He is now recovering from a gunshot wound and other injuries he allegedly inflicted on himself.

He was removed last night from Westmoreland hospital to Greensburg jail.

Ask For Use Of School Bleachers

Board Unable To Grant Request Because Of Football Game

Appearing before the New Castle School board Wednesday night, Herbert Peairs, representing the Trades and Labor Assembly, asked the board for the use of the wooden bleacher seats at Taggart stadium, for use during the Labor Day Week celebration which will be staged the week of September 6.

Mr. Peairs explained that a pageant depicting the progress of labor in the United States would be presented each night and that the bleachers would fill their need of adequate seating space on the old Rosena grounds on South Mill street.

After discussing the matter in the business session the board finally decided that it would be impossible to comply with the request due to the fact that a football game will be played at the stadium on September 10 and the board felt it would be unwise to tear down the seats and have them used on the Mill street grounds until Friday and then attempt to get them put back in place for the Friday night game at the stadium. The secretary was authorized to convey the regret of the board at being unable to comply with the request.

Scouts Have Wiener Roast Along Creek

Robert Walter Tells Of Scout Jamboree At Meeting Of Troop 4

Hiking to Hickory creek, members of the boy scouts of Troop 4 held their regular meeting, recently, in the form of a wiener roast.

The early hours of the evening were spent swimming after which they gathered around the fire and cooked their lunch.

Coming as the high spot on the evenings program was the interesting talk given by Robert Walter on his trip to Washington, D. C. where he attended the Boy Scout Jamboree.

At 9 o'clock the scouts formed a circle around the camp fire and whistled taps.

The next regular meeting will be held on Monday, July 19. All boys interested in summer camping are urged to be present at the meeting place at 7 o'clock.

Mantz yesterday and was remanded to jail for sentence court. The charge was preferred by Police Chief Ralph A. Criswell. Daku was captured by Officers Reese, Golis and Thomas.

Work Continues On Clearing Streets

In spite of the fact that a group of men and trucks are working diligently to rid the streets of the ward of their collection of rocks, mud and other debris, washed down by the near cloudburst on Tuesday, they still are in a deplorable condition, making driving still hazardous.

Atlantic avenue seems to have suffered the worst, piles of rocks and stones in places making one lane traffic necessary. As the mud is drying up, residents on North Liberty street are receiving clouds of dust that in a small way resembles the dust storms of the west.

"Everything I ate disagreed with me and the suffering it caused from gas, sour stomach, acid risings and heart fluttering was intense at times.

"I also had pains in my back, soreness in my arms and joints and felt stiff all over. My nerves got so jumpy I couldn't sleep well.

"It is wonderful the way Vendol and the Vendol laxative tablets have worked on me. They seem to have given my system a thorough cleansing such as I had need for a long time, but they did it so nicely and so pleasantly that I'm sorry I didn't take them long ago.

"I no longer suffer from constipation and never feel dizzy or have those little spots before my eyes. No Action Taken On Thrift Plan For City Schools

School Board Does Not Give Approval To Proposal Last Night

No action was taken Wednesday night by the New Castle School board upon the request of T. F. Winter of the Standard Savings Service Inc., of Pittsburgh, that his organization be permitted to install a thrift savings club in the schools.

Mr. Winter explained that the depository of the funds would be a responsible bank in New Castle, that the teachers would collect the savings once a week from the pupils and enter it in the pass books, and that the company would be responsible for any losses entailed.

Taking the matter up in executive session the board discussed the idea briefly. Said Director Roy W. Hazen, "I believe there are too many outside activities now in which the teachers are asked to participate. They have plenty to do as it is without adding more to them."

Superintendent C. C. Green. "I have always favored the teaching of thrift in the schools and this is a method which might be termed practical education."

W. W. Duff. "This looks to me like a racket foisted upon the schools under the guise of teaching thrift. Many accounts in these thrift savings funds are never collected due to loss of pass books or removal from the city. Years later the amounts are escheated to the state but the bank has the use of the money for years before it."

No motion was made to accept or reject the idea and it folded up without any action.

Rescues Tot From Old Drainage Pit

Infant Topples Into Abandoned Drainage Pit Which Caves In Following Heavy Rains

Little Jackie Johnson, aged 18 months, son of Mrs. Jack Johnson, of 910 Lorain avenue, was rescued from an abandoned drainage pit, into which the tot suddenly disappeared late Wednesday afternoon, while walking across the lawn at the home of Isaac Aho, next door.

Little Donnie Pitzer, who was sitting on the porch of their home across the street saw the child disappear as if into thin air, and walking over to investigate, saw the hole. He screamed for his father, Clinton Pitzer, who ran across the street and pulled the child from the hole, just as he was beginning to sink into the slimy ooze which covered the bottom of the pit.

The pit had been built many years ago, and the wooden planks which covered its tops rotted away. The heavy rains of the summer had caused the top to gradually cave it, and when the child walked across the top of the spot yesterday afternoon, it gave away. The little fellow is none the worse for his experience today, it was stated although he dropped about five feet into the hole, he was not injured.

Open Air Services Continuing Tonight

In spite of the most unfavorable weather for open air religious services the attendance has been very good at the Calvary Presbyterian pavilion, East New Castle, every night. Many evidently are determed to hear all or nearly all of the inspiring messages being given by the present guest speaker, Rev. Martin S. Charles, of Los Angeles.

At the service last evening Mr. Charles gave his own thrilling testimony on "From Atheism to Christ." Special music selections by the Harmony trio of the Peoples Mission and the Messrs. Watkins, Jackson and Dagvill of Bible School Park, N. Y., added to the service.

Mr. Charles announced that he will tonight tell the thrilling story of how he led an arrogant, blasphemous partner out of atheism into Christianity. Musical numbers will be given by the Young Men's trio. The service will open at 7:30.

FIGHTING CHARGED

John McKisson, colored and Elmer Black, white, were arrested for fighting last night in the rear of a West Washington street eating place. Both were held pending a hearing before Mayor Charles E. McGrath in police court today.

"NOT long ago I was like some friends I have . . . low in spirits . . . run-down . . . out of sorts . . . tired easily and looked terrible. I knew I had no serious organic trouble, so I reasoned sensibly . . . as my experience has since proven . . . that work, worry, colds and whatnot had just worn me down.

"The confidence mother has always had in S.S.S. Tonic . . . which is still her stand-by when she feels run-down . . . convinced me I ought to try this Treatment . . . I started a course. The color began to come back to my skin . . . I felt better . . . I did not tire easily and soon I felt that those red-blood-cells were back to so-called fighting strength . . . it is great to feel strong again and like my old self."

You, too, will want to take S.S.S. Tonic to regain and to maintain your red-blood-cells . . . to restore lost weight . . . to regain energy . . . to strengthen nerves . . . and to give to your skin that natural health glow.

'STUNT-FLYING' WILL BE BANNED BY GOVERNMENT

No More "Stunt-Flying" Like Amelia Earhart Was Trying To Do, Says Government

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 15.—Due to Amelia Earhart's disappearance on a round-the-world flight, the United States government decided to ban all trans-oceanic "stunt-flying" by Americans.

The immediate effect was to check preparations for two more spectacular world-girdling flights, one by Howard Hughes, millionaire speed flier, and the other by Dick Merrill, who has made two round trip flights across the Atlantic, and Mark Hellinger, New York columnist.

News of the ban leaked out when Hellinger returned from Washington where he went to request a permit to make the proposed world flight with Merrill.

Using Merrill's special Lockheed plane, the flier and Hellinger planned to leave New York the last week in July in an endeavor to break the round-the-world record held by the late Wiley Post.

Applications For Old Age Pension Cards Enormous

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Pouring in at the rate of more than 75,000 a day, applications for identification cards for old age benefits have passed the 30,000,000 mark, the social security board reported today.

At the end of June applications totaled 29,954,821. The June total was 2,284,920, or an average of 76,154 a day.

On July 1, field offices of the board took over the task of receiving application blanks and issuing account numbers.

The number of applicants filed from the various states as of June 30 included:

Ohio 1,897,389, and Pennsylvania 2,781,098.

Farmhand Wins Battle With Snake

BELLEFONTE, Pa., July 15.—Still shaken by his experience, a youthful farmhand told here today of his quarter-mile sprint through woods and back pasture in a vain attempt to shake off the four-foot rattlesnake clinging by its fangs to his trouser leg.

The youth, Leroy Sayers, employed on a farm at Yarnell, 10 miles north of here, was unhurt. He killed the reptile with a club.

Carrying a bridle with which he intended to lead a horse back from a mountain pasture, Sayers was entering the woods when the rattlesnake struck at his leg. The snake's strike fell short, but its fangs caught in the youth's trouser leg. Sayers dropped the bridle in attempting to strike the reptile with it, then ran madly toward the farmhouse, hoping to shake the creature off. Exhausted, he took the chance that the snake would strike again when he stopped to pick up a piece of wood. One blow from the stick broke the snake's back and dislodged it.

NEW TEACHERS

HARRISBURG—There were 4,625 provisional college certificates issued to teachers during the year 1936, said Dr. Lester K. Ade, superintendent of public instruction, today. Not all of these teachers entered the teaching service for the first time. Included in the group are teachers-in-service who have been in constant attendance at institutions of higher learning and who completed their college education and received provisional college certificates during this year.

The first paper under a recent act of the General Assembly was filed in the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Egdar on Tuesday. The act replaces the old deficiency judgment act which was declared unconstitutional.

The effect of the act is this. Where a mortgagee forecloses on a property he must now declare whether he expects to apply the value of the property against the mortgage or will proceed under the bond to collect on other holdings of the mortgagee.

There have been instances where a mortgage has taken adanvtage of the mortgagor by foreclosing and then purchasing the property for a sum far below the real value of the property. He could then proceed on the bond and sell out other holdings of the mortgagor until the entire amount of the bond had been recovered.

An example of this would be where a property was mortgaged for $5000. At forced sale during hard times the property could not be disposed of at any price and the mortgagee would get it for some trifling sum. Now the law protects the mortgagor at least up to the fair value of the property.

The following actions have been filed in the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar.

Samuel Warner files against Dorothea Anna Snyder, administratrix of the estate of the late Sarah Cooper claiming $57 with interest from July 8 for services rendered. Dr. E. U. Snyder files against the same administratrix for $50 with interest from July 9, 1936 for services rendered.

The Mahoning Savings and Loan Association files an action to revive a judgment against James Panella and Angela Panella. The real debt is $277.05 and the interest from January 21, 1932 to July 10, 1937 at 3½ per cent per month is $638.18, a total of $915.23.

The date of the annual picnic of the Lawrence County Bar Association and the court house employes has been set for Saturday August 7. It is the one day in the year when the lawyers and the court house attaches get together for a frolic with the leading act being a baseball game between the lawyers and the employes.

A sport committee consisting of Attorneys Charles A. Wallace and Charles V. Ross has been appointed. Other committees are Park committee, Attorney Marshall Matheny and Elmer Taylor. Donations committee, Elmer Taylor and John A. Edgar. Tickets and contact, Mrs. Winifred James and Elmer Taylor.

In order to see that justice is done and that the attorneys do not appeal their probable defeat in the ball game, Alderman L. C. Mantz and B. J. Biondi have been appointed as umpires. They can be "seen" at their office any day in the week except Sunday. Evenings by appointment.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has received a copy of the program of the sheriff's convention which will be held in the Hotel Weimer in Lebanon, Pa., July 19-20-21. The sheriffs' association is headed by President Thomas John Evans of Schuylkill County. Sheriff Pritchard is on the legislative committee.

If you were asked how many offices are to be filled at the election this year your answer would probably range from fifty to 100. Actually there are 518 offices to be filled, ranging from judge of the county down to election precinct officials.

There are 218 offices which might be termed major offices. These are judge, district attorney, sheriff, register and recorder, council, school board, auditors, supervisors and the like. Three hundred are judges and inspectors of elections in the 100 precincts of the county.

GRADE TEACHERS

HARRISBURG—Dr. Lester K. Ade, superintendent of public instruction, said today that the total number of elementary teachers employed in the public schools of Pennsylvania during the school year 1936-37 was 40,032. This total represents an increase of approximately 400 teachers over the previous school year.

NEAR CLOUDBURST BUT STATE'S STILL HOT

Turtle Creek Valley Is Hit

Terrific Downpour Of Rain Is Reported In That District

HIGH HUMIDITY STILL PREVAILS

(International News Service)

Heavy rains, assuming the proportions of a cloudburst in one section of the state, tumbled soaring temperatures but failed to give relief today as high humidity with sticky weather prevailed over great portions of the state.

A cloudhurst, accompanied by a severe electrical storm, drenched the Monongahela and Turtle Creek valleys, injuring one woman and darkening several communities.

Heavy Downpours

Traffic was stalled in many sections of the state as heavy downpours filled streets and highways, blowing down electric wires and trees. In Pittsburgh a heavy rain, accompanied by a severe electrical storm, fell during the night. The temperature failed to rise above 68 for the lowest maximum in nearly two months. Heavy rains drenched the surrounding territory without resultant damage. A misty rain added to the stickiness of the weather.

At Philadelphia a Canadian breeze and showers drove the temperature down to 66 from a high of 70, 28 below the heat wave high mark. Thunder showers and normal temperature of around 76 were predicted for today.

GRANT USE OF AUDITORIUM FOR BENEFIT CONCERT

Enumerators Have Some Difficulties

Youngsters Over 16 Refuse To Give Ages In Some Cases, Is Report

Difficulties with the new school law which calls for compulsory attendance until 17 in the school year of 1938-39 and 18 from then on, was reported to the school board Wednesday night by Director J. Herbert McIlvenny.

"Some of the enumerators have found instances where youngsters over 16 have refused to give their names or ages," said McIlvenny. "Apparently they are afraid they will be sent back to school and will be unable to continue working.

"Such instances should be turned in to the office," said Superintendent C. C. Green. "Under the new law we are now ordered to enumerate every youngster between 6 and 18, but there are many exemptions to the law. A youngster who has graduated from the high school before 18 cannot be forced to return. The raising of the compulsory school age affects only those who are idle between 16 and 18. Pupils who are 15 may be excused where it can be shown the parents need them for domestic or farm work. Pupils who are 16 and mentally unfit to profit by further training are exempt."

It isn't necessary to ask man's opinion in any controversy. Just learn which side will benefit his interests.

"You are the only women in the world who are taken seriously," says Miss Gordon Holmes, British feminist visiting the United States.

During a severe electric storm in Mercer county the other day, three horses were killed by lightning in a field on the Earl McElheny farm, a mile west of Fredonia.

Two New Castle persons were injured in an auto accident 12 miles west of Monaca on Route 18, Monday afternoon, when the car in which they were riding crashed at a hill crest with a car driven by George Stoica, Weirton, W. Va., who escaped injury. Ernest Rogers, of New Castle, driver of one car, is in Rochester General Hospital with head injuries. A passenger in his car, Walter Houk, of New Castle, was injured in the thigh.

Nearly 100 women from all parts of Pennsylvania are at Grove City for the four day house party of the Women's Baptist Mission Society of the state. Sessions are in charge of Mrs. Edward O. Elliott, of Jenkinstown, president of the society and dean of the conference.

So many fish stories are coming from Pymatuning anglers that it is difficult to know which to take with salt and which with tartare sauce. And some of the stories come from newspapermen, who should be reliable. M. M. Hamor, and M. A. Blair of the Greenville Record-Argus cross their hearts and hope to die if what they say isn't true. They were standing at the dam and they saw—actually—so many fish in the spillway pool that the ducks couldn't swim and had to walk. Ordinarily, they point out, fish may not be walked upon

Court Dismisses Speed Trap Case

MERCER, July 15.—Speed traps operated in Mercer county by members of the Pennsylvania motor police must be conducted in accordance with the regulations of the State Highway department, according to an opinion handed down in Mercer court this morning by Judge George H. Rowley.

The case against James Patterson, Mercer, who was charged with violating the 20-mile speed limit on South Erie street, Mercer, was dismissed by Judge Rowley on grounds that two members of the motor police operating the "speed trap" were not stationed one-eighth of a mile apart, as the law requires.

As we understand you, Governor Earle, the right to keep your brother from working is greater than his right to work.

Tear Gas Bombs Fired At Pickets

Trouble Is Reported At "Captive" Mines In Connellsville Area

MINES RESUMED AFTER STRIKE HALT

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., July 15.—Tear gas bombs were fired today by company watchmen at striking coal miners picketing two "captive" mines of Republic Steel corporation which resumed operations yesterday.

No one was reported injured in the clash which occurred when company officials claimed the strikers, members of the United Mine Workers, advanced onto company property, shouting threats against working employes and hurling stones. The men were driven back by the gas barrage.

Company officials charged the men were standing on railroad property of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia railway outside Republic's Davidson mine, hurling stones at the property and threatening to go into the mine and drive the men out. When they advanced on company property and refsed to leave the tear gas barrage followed, they said.

E. B. Winning, manager of the mines, said he would immediatel appeal to Governor George H. Earl at Harrisburg for state police protection, contending "a menacing sit uation exists."

The United Mine Workers calle a strike several weeks ago to support walkouts in the company's stee mills. Two of the mines, the David son and Trotter mines outside o here, reopened yesterday in defi ance of the strikers. No disorder were reported at the Trotter mine Company officials asserted 11(men were at work in the Davidson mine and approximately the sam number at the Trotter mine. Mos of them were said to be member of the Independent Worker Brotherhood which instituted th back-to-work movement.

John Kramrech, of Uniontown organizer for District No. 4, United Mine Workers, asserted only 8(men were at work, principally maintenance men. Approximately 1500 men, he said, were on the picket lines, compared with 200 yesterday. C. L. Snyder, district chairman of the independents, said the men came from Republic and Mt Hope, in Fayette county, and from Buckeye, in Greene county.

CAT PALS WITH RAT

(International News Service)

OREGON CITY, Ore.—Mrs. F. D Duncan is losing faith in cats as rat-catchers. She said she looked out her window and saw a neighbors' Maltese cat eating out of the same dish with a large rat, and that the cat made no attempt either to kill the rat or to drive it away.

Many Visit Safety Exhibit On Public Square During Day

Tests Given To Check Ability Of Driver To Handle His Machine On Highway

"Stop saving seconds, and losing lives, this is the motto of the mobil safety test car which is today being visited by hundreds of New Castle drivers on the Public Square.

In this machine four different tests are presented to drivers to check their ability to drive on the highway. The tests are all given under miniature driving conditions, which are similar to those met while motoring.

The driver takes a seat before one of the machines, and finds that this will test his ability as a driver along the highway at the speed of 60 miles per hour. This rate of speed was set because many persons attain this when travelling on the open road. A standard automobile steering wheel is used in all of the tests and highway scenery is also built in miniature.

Another of the tests, checks the ability of the driver to stop his machine after suddenly seeing a red traffic light or some sort of a hazard in the front of his car.

A test is also given to determine the rate of color-blindness in a driver.

As glaring headlights present one of the greatest hazards of night driving, a test is provided, whereby the person taking the test makes an effort to steer his machine along the highway at night with glaring headlights in his eyes. The effect of the glare is registered on a chart and given to the one tested.

Moving pictures on safety and driving, are also being shown at the exhibit. A chart registering the result of the test is presented to each driver who takes this examination.

The mobil car will remain on the Public Square until 5 o'clock tonight at which time it will leave for Warren, O. for showing tomorrow.

Delegates Named By Gaston Post

Four Are Chosen To Represent Post At State Convention In York Next Month

Commander Dave Tobin, and James Cooper, Fred Duff and Clarence S. Jarrett, were named delegates to the annual state convention of the American Legion which takes place at York, Pa., next month, at the meeting in the Perry S. Gaston Post, Tuesday evening.

Two alternates who were selected to serve in case any of the delegates are unable to attend are Robert Gowell, Earl Moffatt, Ivor M. Richard and John R. Wilson.

Frank Wood gave an excellent report on the Junior baseball team and league which has been sponsored by the post this summer.

A Civic Emergency Committee, which will secure the names of persons willing to donate their blood in case a transfusion is needed was named by Commander Tobin. Earl Cummins is chairman and the other members are Bart Richards, Ross D. Rosenberger and George Miles.

Obsequies For Pet Catfish At Park Wednesday

For a little while Wednesday all activities of day camp at Cascade Park were stopped and the Girl Scouts joined in a funeral procession in tribute to their pet catfish whose demise occurred suddenly while paddling around in a pan of water.

The catfish had been apparently in good health and his death was a shock to the entire camp especially to the Pioneer Unit under whose care he had been.

A bier was fashioned at the island from ferns and flowers. The obsequies were solemn from start to finish. A fitting eulogy on the good, clean life led by the deceased was delivered by one of the scouts. The funeral cortege walked slowly to the bandstand, and at the end of the march, burial was made, amid many crocidile tears.

Coal Bids Are Given For Schools

No Action Taken By Board Pending Checking By Committee

Bids for coal for the coming school term were opened Wednesday night by the New Castle School Board but no action was taken in awarding of the contract. The bids will be checked by the Text Book and Supplies Committee and a recommendation made at the August meeting.

A perusal of the bids showed most of them together on coal of the same grade. "This looks rather odd that all these bids should be the same" said W. W. Duff.

Ivor V. Davis one of the bidders said, 'operating costs today are about the same and the price of coal at the mines is going to be set by the National Coal Commission. May I suggest to the board that it would be a good idea if the bid was divided among the various dealers?"

A. C. Hyde. "We want you dealers to present bids here that will not cause you loss but the same time we want bids on this coal. You men come in and make the board the goats."

Clyde M. Whittaker. "Under the possible set up of the coal business will a contract mean anything?"

Ivor V. Davis. "Practically not. When the National Coal Commission functions under the terms of the Guffey bill, the minimum prices will be set, and we will be forced to operate under those rules."

The contract calls for any part of 4000 tons of coal to be supplied as needed during the school year.

Our machines may be wonderful, but we remain primitive savages while men march out to kill and die when a boss says, "Sic 'em."

Council Action Gets Criticism

School Board Members Express Attitude On Salary Actions

Pointed criticism of city council in not presenting matters of joint interest to the school board before the council takes action was expressed Wednesday night by the New Castle School board at its meeting in the administration building on East street.

The immediate cause of the criticism was a notice from city council that it was passing a resolution raising the salaries of the first and second deputy city treasurers from $165 to $175 and from $137.50 to $150 respectively. Council asked the ratification of the school board.

Under the arrangement made when the city treasurer bill went into effect putting the treasurer on salary and dividing the costs of his office between the city and the schools both bodies appointed a member to act for them. The council appointed Councilman J. L. Fink and the school board appointed Walter W. Duff. These two men were to confer on any changes that were to be made from time to time and report back to their organizations.

"Was this matter taken up with Mr. Duff before the action was taken" asked A. C. Hyde.

"No," replied Duff, "this is the first I knew of it. They don't consider the board down at city hall. They go ahead and do things and then put us in the crack. Sometime ago they decided to deliver tax notices by hand at a cost of three-fourths cents each. When we discontinued the per capita tax this cut down the number to be delivered and the city treasurer then wanted to mail them out. I told him to go ahead and finish his job."

"If our member hasn't been consulted in this matter I'm against it," said J. Herbert McIlvenny.

"I think we should return this communication to the city council and tell them to take it up in the regular way" said W. Fulton Jackson.

This was ordered and no further action was taken on the matter.

Glandular Trouble Fatal To Woman

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 15.—An attack of glandular trouble while in a dentist's chair having a tooth extracted was blamed Wednesday for the death of Mrs. Mary Tretow Fulton, 26, daughter of the late Ercest Tretow, well-known local zoo director.

An autopsy performed after her death established the cause. The extraction of a wisdom tooth was said to be purely incidental to the attack of glandular trouble.

Mrs. Fulton's husband, it was revealed, had two teeth extracted a few days previous. The couple had been married a year.

RAINY WEATHER

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Mass.—It was bitter, rainy night. A number of persons had probably gone to the "movies" to escape the rain. In a Bowdoin square theatre some 750 patrons were amazed to find water pouring from the ceiling. Although there was no fire, the sprinkler system had decided it was time to let loose. A majority of the patrons suffered wet feet in the rush for exits and one girl fainted.

Big Hotels Have Queer Problems

Have To Cater To Wealthy Guests Who Are Suffering From Delusions

ACCIDENTALLY CRASHES RADIO

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 15.—Every large metropolitan hotel must deal with what are known as "H. G's"—hysteria guests. They are patrons who suffer from minor delusions but appear perfectly normal in casual contacts. In reality, they are the rich, petted and spoiled.

O. O. McINTYRE

One middle-aged lady in a lower 5th avenue hotel has a germ phobia. She insists that maids and waiters who serve her wear rubber gloves and after each departs she sprays the entire apartment with an antiseptic from a huge atomizer. Passing through the hotel to her car she wears a gauze mask.

There are also several who insist there shall be no other passengers on elevators in which they ride. And there are still others who will not ride in an elevator under any circumstances and refuse to live above the first floor. Thus they may walk. Also people who must be screened off, dining in public.

In one of the small but exclusive hotels is a young heiress, whose college love affair turned out badly, who rents the apartments on either side and across the hall but does not use them. Hotels indulge such phobieas because these people pay for their quirks and are invariably well behaved.

Topsy turvy world: Katheleen Norris, who is not at all a royalist, attended the London coronation, while two of her nephews were fighting in Spain for the loyalists.

Few laymen ever made such a smashing hit on the radio the first broadcast as Frank Case on a recent Vallee hour. The whole thing was accidental. Vallee, at the Algonquin for luncheon, was telling Case of his worry finding someone to substitute for Mitzi Green, taken suddenly ill, on the evening of the program. Case in jesting banter chirped: "Don't worry, I'll take her place." And before he could change his mind Vallee snapped him up and together they worked out their cross fire patter on the backs of menus. There was only one rehearsal before going on the air and Case proved himself a smoothie indeed. So much so he has had a flock of radio offers and an invitation to write an article on Algonquin hosting for a national magazine.

Most folk around Grand Central know Tear Drop Carrie, who until laid low by rheumatism recently was one of the professional beggars operating in the neighborhood. She had perfect control of tear ducts and her specialty wa moving through the depot, a forlorn, bedraggled, hooded Niobe, weeping as though all hope had fled. To those who questioned, she told between wails of having just seen her only son and sole support off for Sing Sing to serve life sentence. She was able, if police were not too alert, to make $20 a day.

Incidentally, choice quartette material has been salvaged among depot red caps. They have much leisure to practice on the platforms away from the crowds between trains thundering in. Five crack quartettes of the radio and two of Harlem cabarets had their genesis in the big terminals. The red cap in the metropolis is a gentlemen of importance among his folk. Socially he is elevated to the "dictys". Next to Pullman portering, it is considered the very top calling. Bert Williams used to loaf among the red caps and found much material in their constant banter.

Among male writers who know how to wield a wicked skillet are Robert H. Davis, Ford Madox Ford, S. S. Van Dine, Edison Marshall and, of course, the late Montagu Glass. Another who could don a chef's cap and perform the role successfully is Ted Saucier, the Waldorf press agent. Walter Chrysler Jr. has also been known to floss up a tasty spread for visitors at his bachelor apartment. And John Nance Garner is reputed the most accomplished exponent of the out door fish-fry.

Bagatelles: Albert Payson Terhune, dog breeder, says he has never seen or known anyone who had actually seen a mad dog . . . Captain Bob Bartlett is a dry smoker of the pipe in raging Arctic storms. . . Something to grit his teeth on . . . Katherine Brush began her writing career with a movie column on a newspaper in East Liverpool, O. . . . Phil Baker is one of the few actors who prefers to play engagements outside of New York.

Power of Suggestion or Something for Ripley: Henry Sell came upon the name of Roop Updyke over a little shop on West 18th street the other morning and before he got a block away was hiccuping on all cylinders.

Convention guests will include Mayor J. Harry Moser and Postmaster Arthur B. Clark, of Altoona; Congressman Don Gingery, of Clearfield; William Otte, national secretary-treasurer of the clerks' unit, Washington; Herman Goldstein, fifth vice president, New York; Stanley J. AROUND CITY HALL

Only a few of the proprietors of beer parlors in which dancing is permitted have received a permit from Mayor Charles E. McGrath to allow dancing up to one a. m. However, others are seeking a renewal of their permit. According to report, the mayor has decreed that the space for dancing must conform to a certain size, which in some places, will result in some booths being removed or remodelling.

B. F. Butler, director of streets, expected the first big storm to "blow up" the Grant street storm sewer, he said yesterday. Butler declared that some months ago he wanted to engage Contractor Mike Scanlon to remove the sand at the mouth of the sewer, but it was decided by council that the street department should do the work which he felt the department could not do properly.

Under a new regulation placed on the city books, Chauncey Davis, who has been hitherto known as a sanitary policeman, is now a police officer, designated to do the work of a sanitary policeman. This came about through the ruling of the solicitor that Davis was entitled to pension rights. Formerly there were three sanitary policemen. Davis is the lone officer now in the health bureau.

Dr. W. L. Steen is off duty and has gone on a vacation . . . Telephone in Councilman B. F. Butler's office sounded almost incessantly yesterday, due to calls for alleviation of conditions caused by the storm . . . It is probable the storm Tuesday will cost the city several thousand dollars when all repairs have been made . . . Bunkroom which will be used by persons seeking shelter at the police station next fall, has not yet been completed.

THIS STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA

PENNSYLVANIA LAKES

Do you know that Pennsylvania has 295 lakes with surface areas of more than 20 acres each?

Within the Keystone State are 21 lakes that exceed 200 acres in surface area ranging from 224 to 17,000 acres.

The total lake area surveyed amounts to less than one-tenth of one per cent of the area of Pennsylvania, yet the 44,000 acres of water surface present a huge quantity of water and vast recreational possibilities to the vacationists casting about for a means of spending days of freedom in a beneficial manner.

The largest area of lakes is found in Wayne county, with neighboring Pike county pressing a close second and Luzerne county third.

Pymatuning Lake, in Crawford county and stretching across the state boundary line into Ohio, is an artificial body of water created for the purpose of flood control. It covers 17,000 acres of surface. The shore line is 70 miles long.

Lake Wallenpaupack, on the Wayne-Pike county line, covers a surface area of 5,760 acres. This, too, is an artificial reservoir created for power development.

Conneaut Lake, in Crawford county, ranks third in size with a surface of 928 acres. Harveys Lake, in Luzerne county, northwest of Wilkes-Barre, is next in size with 658 acres.

8 EXTRA POUNDS OF RUBBER . . .

TAPPING RUBBER TREES ON FIRESTONE PLANTATIONS IN LIBERIA
From these vast plantations come an ever increasing supply of the world's finest rubber. Firestone economies in producing raw materials, manufacturing and distribution make it possible for Firestone to give you so much more for your money.

Another Reason Why
FIRESTONE GIVES YOU SO MUCH EXTRA VALUE AT NO EXTRA COST

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every fiber in every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts dangerous internal friction and heat that ordinarily destroy tire life.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long wearing tread.

Before leaving on your vacation trip, join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard tires—today's top tire value.

PRICES AS LOW AS $6.40

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE ON THIN WORN TIRES
DO YOU KNOW
THAT last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 38,000 men, women and children?
THAT a million more were injured?
THAT more than 40,000 of these deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures, blowouts and skidding due to unsafe tires?

At right is a section cut from a smooth, worn tire, with non-skid protection worn off. Tires in this condition are liable to punctures, blowouts and skidding.

Giants Upset Pirates And Go Into Lead

Boston Bees Trim Cubs Making It Possible For Giants To Take First Place

INDIANS WALLOP SENATORS 11 TO 3

By LAWTON CARTER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 15—The Giants are out in front in the National league pennant race today, but the Boston Bees deserve an assist and three long cheers for making the advance to the top possible.

The New Yorkers had to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday if they were to advance and they saw to that. But they still couldn't get there unless the Chicago Cubs were knocked off and that is where the suddenly energetic Bees came into the situation.

Until yesterday, the Cubs had contrived to do their losing at such times as to prevent their position in the standings from being seriously affected and had been in the lead since June 15.

Turner Beats Cubs

Then the Bees turned loose Jim Turner, the tall Tennessean, against the Bruins, and they promptly rolled over and played dead all afternoon, succumbing 2 to 1 in a pitching duel. Charlie Root and Curt Davis opposed Turner and each side made five hits.

Meanwhile, Carl Hubbell was feeding the Pittsburgh Pirates his screwballs in perpetrating a four-hitter for his 13th triumph of the season, 4 to 2. Dick Bartell and Mel Ott fashioned the margin of victory with a home run apiece, and it all added up into Giant leadership by a half game.

In the one remaining National loop engagement the Cincinnati Reds broke a deadlock with two

Montreal Will Have One Team

Some American City Will Get Franchise In National Hockey League

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 15—In all probability, Montreal will have only one team in the National Hockey league next season.

It also seems probable that the Montreal Maroon franchise will be transferred to an American city, leaving the Montreal Canadiens to carry on alone in the Canadian metropolis.

All this was presaged by the action of the league's board of governors yesterday in empowering Jim Norris, owner of Detroit's Red Wings; John Kilpatrick, president of the New York Rangers, and Frank Calder, league prexy, to take any action they may deem advisable "to ameliorate the situaiton in Montreal."

The question today was, which American City would land the Maroon franchise?

None of the club owners would venture a prediction but several were willing to admit that Cleveland, St. Louis and Pittsburgh were the spots most favorably considered.

Hockey is no stranger to these three cities and each is of big league caliber, fully capable of supporting a major hockey league team. Judging solely by off the record talk among the club owners, Cleveland seems to have the inside track.

Rose Pointers Top Colonials

The Rose Point baseball team handed the Colonial A. C. a 8 to 6 upsetting last night at the Rose Point field. Gallagher was the pitcher for the Pointers. Todd and Book did the heaving for the New Castles. Drake had the only extra base hit of the game.

HUNGRY WATCH DOG

(International News Service)

BELGRADE—A confectioner in Belgrade left his dog to guard the shop while he went out to lunch. When he returned he saw a huge crowd gathered in front of his locked front door, gazing in at the window. They were watching a dog devouring box after box of chocolates. It was the watch dog.

West Pittsburg Defeats Pulaskis

Score Is 6 To 3 In City League Game At Glasser Field

West Pittsburg remained in first place last night in the city league by two full games as a result of taking a 6 to 3 victory over the K. Pulaski team. The game was played at Glasser field.

B. Winters was on the mound for the league leaders and held the Pulaskis to seven hits. Walter "Sheenie" Soho did the pitching for the K. P. team and was found for 10 hits.

James Markey had the only extra-base hit of the game, a double.

The loss puts the K. P. team in a "mythical" position to overtake the league toppers.

runs in the ninth and beat the Dodgers, 5 to 3.

Red Sox Advance

Big doings were going on in the American league as well yesterday, with, for instance, the Boston Red Sox taking over second place by a matter of percentage points and the Yankees increase their lead to 6½ games.

The Sox walloped the St. Louis Browns, 15 to 6, while the Yankees were beating back their main threat of the moment, the Detroit Tigers, 10 to 2, this combination resulting in a wholesale shuffle when added to the Chicago White Sox 6 to 4 victory over the Philadelphia Athletic.

Tigers Drop

The Tigers dropped from second all the way to fourth; the Red Sox moved into second and the erstwhile fourth place White Sox into third. But they still are so closely grouped that any one game can produce a change.

A glance at the leaders' games yesterday reveals that Red Ruffling pitched his 11th victory for the Yankees in beating the Tigers, and that DiMaggio hit his 23rd home run to maintain leadership; that Boston made 21 hits in downing the Browns and that the White Sox beat the A's in 4½ innings, after which rain terminated the game.

In the other game on the slate, Cleveland beat Washington 11 to 3.

First-Half Of League To End

The first half of the Carnegie-Illinois Softball league will end on Friday night at Flats field with the playing of the Cold Rolls and Brights game. The Cold Rolls need a victory for the first half title.

If the Brights win, it will throw the league into a three-way tie.

The standing of the league, according to the figures submitted by Edgie Skaneski today:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Cold Rolls	6	2	.750
N. C. Works	6	3	.666
Brights	5	3	.625
Mechanicals	0	9	.000

New "Foul-Proof" Sinker Will Tickle Fisherman

Floyd Gaines of Portland, Ore., who gave the angling world a new sinker, and a diagram of its principle when it hits a snag.

By RICHARD H. SYRING
Central Press Correspondent

PORTLAND, Ore., July 14.—Nothing new under the fishing waters? There most certainly is, according to Floyd W. Gaines, Portland fireman, and his fishing pal, William H. Williams. They recently proved it by coming up with a brand new "foul-proof" sinker for disciples of Izaak Walton, who like to sink their hook.

"Gaines' tackle saver", they call this simple looking product. Those who have left plenty of fishing "hardware" on the bottom of their favorite rivers and streams will herald the invention as a godsend. At least the inventors think they will.

The two men claim their invention has been put through brutal tests and that it has yet to foul upon a rock or wood ledge.

There isn't much to the new sinker, which operates on a rolling principle, and you'd almost swear that someone must have thought of it previously. Virtually any ardent fisherman can make one.

Take a cylindrical piece of lead, with rounded ends and a long metal fastener to which the "leader" or "drop line" is attached by a swivel ring. You can make the min all sizes, from 8 to 20 pounders, if you're a commercial fisherman. The invention will prove ideal for net weighing as well as trolling.

"We fooled along a long time before coming upon our invention," Gaines said. "We've each fished a lot, so the invention came along naturally. I'll bet I've left at least $100 worth of fishing tackle on the bottoms of rivers myself, the result of fouled sinkers that either caused me to break my tackle or forced me to cut loose."

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 15.—Clarence DeMar reaps the reward of a long and honorable life of service to American athletics . . . he ventures an opinion and is publicly disgraced by the despotic rulers of the Amateur Athletic Union . . . proving that the dear old A. A. U. is running in mid-season form and that petty tyranny has not been abandoned as its watchword.

What happened? . . . The 49-year-old DeMar, hero of many a Boston marathon, father of a family, law-abiding citizen, sober, straightforward . . . wah fired for the alleged suggestion that the athletes going to Texas for the Pan-American games in connection with the Centennial should "get something more than expenses" . . . DeMar says he didn't put it just that way . . . he merely hinted, he says, that the athletes should be transported decently to and from Texas and maintained while there in style at least as lavish as that allowed the A. A. U. manager who accompanied them . . . this the A. A. U. views in the light of high treason.

What DeMar probably wanted to convey was that some funds for extra entertainment should be provided . . . that the athletes should not have to dig into their own pockets (none of them is rich) to take care of the little extras that always pop up on a trip of this kind . . . the veteran has had some experience with the A. A. U. before now, and he doesn't have money to spend for the privilege of running for the A. A. U. . . . for the privilege of running for the A. A. U. so that the A. A. U. can make some money . . . not to mention a profit for the Texas Centennial at all!

Amateurism has been publicly knocked down and dragged around so flagrantly by the A. A. that it is a wonder there is any of it left in this country . . . when an incident of this sort occurs, you can readly understand what Babe Didrickson, Eleanor Holm Jarrett, Jesse Owens and other great performers who have been kicked around by the A. A. U. were talking about when they resented the asinine rulings filed against them. . . . Lack of diplomacy has been the dominant characteristic of A. A. U. supervision as long as I remember the organization, which is a matter of some 20 years . . . going all the way back to the public and inhuman destruction of Jim Thrope because he took some money for playing ball.

A layer of fat seems to creep up between the ears of A. A. U. officials as soon as they see a chance to exercise authority . . . it's a strange process . . . characteristic of stuffed shirts, wherever they are seen . . . athletes ask for an even break with four-flushing executives under whom they labor . . . and the reply is "Outside, bum!" . . . a bona-fide athlete is made to appear an undesirable agitator because he is so rash as to suggest that he receive treatment at least equal to that granted to puppets and hangers-on who live by the brilliance of his performance.

It seems to me that the A. A. U., in the light of its past mistakes, might at least be decent and diplomatic about DeMar . . . and not try to make it appear he is a grasping culprit within the ranks of simon-pure amateurism.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

Yosemite Valley, Calif., July 8.

Here we are again, still in the mountains . . . remember what range we are in? That's right, the High Sierras . . . well, the fishing is still a little bad . . . what do you say we start out again . . . let's go down to the main road and go north . . . as we go north we pass Twin Lakes, the Mammoth Lake region and still on up we come to the famous Mona Lake . . . one of Mark Twain's books was written on the shores of this lake . . . that's funny, I can't remember that title . . . maybe you can . . . the part I remember is about a little town that had a rather undesirable character, but they had no jail to keep him in . . . being on the lake and having an island in the lake called Black Island, they put him there . . . but the next morning he was back on the mainland . . . they put him back and again the next morning he was in the town . . . so the next night they sent a spy to watch how he made his escape since there were no boats on the island and it was much too far to swim . . . well, to their surprise they found that he picked up a large boulder and threw it in the water and floated across on it to the mainland . . . well, the story is partly true . . . the boulders around this lake will float . . . the island is made up of lava rock which is very porous and it will float . . . now about holding up a man, we doubt that . . . getting back to our own story, we turned west from the lake and started up the Tioga Pass.

Take a breathing space here . . . this road is not much more than one car width . . . very winding . . . some places it is necessary to back up to make the turn . . . some places you can look down, straight down from in the car, to the bottom, which will measure some two thousand feet . . . maybe that doesn't give you a thrill to drive up this road and back up to make the turn . . . when we reached the summit we were at the altitude of 9,400 feet . . . above the snow line by many feet . . . did you know that snow breeds mosquitoes? Yes, folks, the largest ones we have ever been hitten by . . . melting snow is like our swamps . . . after the snow is gone so are the mosquitoes.

About 85 miles from Mona Lake up over the mountains we come to Yosemite Valley . . . if you have read your paper thoroughly . . . and I know you have . . . you will remember reading about this valley being packed with tourists . . . tomorrow we will tell you more about this valley.

Stock Market Tone Easier

Reaction Sets In Market, Profit Taking Brings About Change

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 15.—The stock market displayed an easier tone today, leading issues slipping a point and more on selling carried over from yesterday. A weaker undertone was apparent from the start.

Steels, rails, coppers, motors and farm implements, all of which had the widest gains in the recent advances, led in the reaction. Liquor shares and a few specialties bucked the down trend.

Profit taking brought reaction in grain, wheat tumbling two cents a bushel at Chicago and three at Winnipeg. Other grains and cotton slipped.

Car Destroyed; But Occupants Escape In Crash

Accident Occurs On Butler Highway Near Rose Point Bridge

Packard coupe driven by Makac Kotrilles, Youngstown, was destroyed but he and an occupant of his car escaped injury at 1:30 a. m. today on the Butler-New Castle road at the Rose Point bridge, according to the Pennsylvania motor police. Three guard rails were ripped out of the ground.

According to the P. M. P. investigation, Kotrilles was driving at about 40 miles an hour down the hill toward New Castle.

His car started to skid and he said he was afraid to apply the brakes.

The car went to the left embankment, tore out the guard posts then landed on the concrete pier.

The driver and occupant got out of the car, expecting it to fall into the Slippery Rock creek any moment.

However, the P. M. P. called a tow truck and what was left of the coupe was lifted off the pier after 90 minutes work.

Camp Rentz Will Greet Visitors

Public Inspection Planned For Friday Night; Orchestra To Play

Friday evening will be Public Inspection Night at Camp Fred L. Rentz of the New Castle Y. M. C. A. General Secretary Robert L. Meermans, trusting that the weatherman will be a bit more gentle tomorrow night, made known plans calling for the reception of the campers' parents and friends and other "Y" friends between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock. Rain spoiled the first inspection night program.

WPA Orchestra To Play

The principal feature of the evening will be a concert by the Works Progress Administration orchestra under the direction of Ben Shulansky.

"We want our New Castle friends to see the improved Camp Rentz," Secretary Meermans stated. "One must see the grounds in their new condition, the new buildings and all to appreciate what a "Y" camp New Castle can justly boast of."

Mr. Meermans and his staff will be on the reception committee. Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Rentz, generous donors of much of the camp property and buildings, are expected to be present. Others who have contributed will also be present.

A capacity crowd of boys is vacationing at the Slippery Rock grounds this week. Meermans said thunderstorms of the past week have done no damage to the equipment.

Beerbower Believes Farm Was Camping Ground Of Indians

While excavating for a house on his property, C. W. Beerbower of the New Wilmington road, discovered many interesting implements used by the Indians of this vicinity.

The house, now completed, will be known as Che-Meta cottage, an Indian name mean "place of rest". Mr. Beerbower is a local authority on Indian lore and a collector of Indian relics.

The Beerbower property and the adjoining property of Harry Gravenstreter are believed to have been the camping grounds of the Indians of Lawrence county and was a dependency of the Duskuski Indian state. Conclusive evidence that there was an Indian village on the property was found by Beerbower while excavating for a lake. Grinders, scraping knives, scalping knives, fleshing knives, stone drills, arrowheads, and a bed of charcoal prove that a village existed but whether it was permanent or not cannot be definitely established.

The abundance of flint on the Beerbower-Gravenstreter properties points to the fact that arrowheads were manufactured in this locality.

Before the Indians were driven westward by the white men Lawrenec county was the central province of the Western Delaware kingdom, the principal towns being Kuskushi (New Castle), Kittanning, Logstown, and Sauconk. These communities were trading centers during the period of contact with the French and English. It is probable that New Wilmington was the headquarters for military operations, hunting expeditions, and exploring parties.

The cottage is now being occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Parfitt and family who formerly resided at 112 Hillcrest avenue in this city.

Plan To Arm British Ships

Merchant Ships Will Be Armed To Guard Against Any Emergencies

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 15.—With the British freighter Molton held by Spanish insurgents, the British admiralty today prepared to arm British merchant ships in the event of an emergency arising from Spain's civil war.

The 3,000-ton Molton, carrying food en route to the loyalist port of Santander on the Basque coast, was captured near its destination by the insurgent warship Almirante Cervera.

The British admiralty asserted, however, the decision to arm merchantmen had nothing to do with the Molton incident.

The government's decision was announced in the House of Commons by Alfred Duff-Cooper, first lord of the admiralty. He replied affirmatively to a question whether the government was amassing reserve guns and other equipment to arm British merchant ships in the event of an emergency.

He also said the government was considering a proposal to train personnel of the mercantile marine in the use of defensive armament.

Senator Copeland Turns Deaf Ear On Mayoralty Reports

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 15—Senator Copeland (D) of New York, declared today he would not become a candidate for mayor of New York City unless he was drafted by the city's entire Democratic party.

"I am not a candidate for mayor, I don't want to be mayor, and the only thing that would make me run for the office would be to have the solid Democratic party in New York City draft me and guarantee that they would give full support," Copeland said.

The senator said he believed Laguardia could be defeated but that it would take the "combined strength" of the New York Democratic organization.
